

More Money and Men Said Possible for Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson may have to reassess U.S. troop commitments in Vietnam and seek more money to beef up American forces in the Korean area, says Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

Nixon Jumps Into Presidential Race In New Hampshire

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon announced today in an open letter to the citizens of New Hampshire that he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The former vice president told the people of that state "the choices we face are larger than any differences among Republicans or among Democrats, larger even than the differences between the parties. They are beyond politics."

Nixon said in his long-expected declaration: "Peace and freedom in the world, and peace and progress here at home, will depend on the decisions of the next President of the United States. For these critical years,

Viet Cong raids in South Vietnam and the Pueblo crisis, there was a hint the North Koreans may be willing to discuss directly with American officials return of the Navy intelligence ship and her 83 men.

A broadcast from Pyongyang, North Korea, quoted Kim Kwang Hyup, secretary of the Central Committee of the North Korean Workers (Communist) party as saying there is a precedent for dealing with such a case before the Korean Military Armistice Commission in Panmunjom, Korea.

In Washington, the State Department declined comment on whether this country would make a second effort at Panmunjom to settle the crisis. The North Koreans spurned a U.S. demand a week ago at the armistice site for release of the ship and crew.

The department said no new meetings had been scheduled. Mansfield said coordinated attacks in South Vietnam, including the assault on the American Embassy in Saigon, "demonstrate that the Viet Cong, far from being decimated, is coming back strong."

"This may force the President to reassess our troop commitments there," he said. "I think it is fair to say that because of the situation developing in North Korea and the escalation of the fighting in South Vietnam, additional funds are likely to be required."

House Near Final Action On Credit Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House appears on the verge of passing the most sweeping legislation ever approved by either branch of Congress to require that borrowers and buyers be told what interest and other finance charges they'll have to pay.

In a series of votes Wednesday, the House nailed in provisions that expand the Consumer Credit Protection Act well beyond the dimensions of similar legislation passed last year by the Senate.

One major question remains to be decided before the final vote expected late today: Whether the measure should contain a strict limitation on garnishment of wages to collect debts.

As it stands, the bill covers practically all forms of lending and selling on credit, requiring that customers be told—in terms of annual percentage—the finance charges.

Station Worker, Holdup Man Die

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A gas station attendant was shot to death early today in a gun battle with a holdup man who then crashed his car into a wall and died minutes later at Aultman Hospital.

Four bullets killed the service station attendant, John F. Throckmorton, 32, of Canton, police said.

The holdup man, about 20, was hit by three bullets, police said. The Stark County coroner was to determine whether the shots killed him or whether he died from injuries in the crash into a retaining wall at Riverside Avenue and Second Street.

Authorities were trying to get an identification of the holdup man.

Office Travels

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's secretary's traveling office will be at the Lorain County Board of Elections offices in Elyria at 10:30 a. m. Feb. 14, instead of Lorain, as announced previously, through an office error.

Flames of Battle Flare All Across South Vietnam

TEMPORARY TIME OUT — An American MP, propped against a tree across the street from the American Embassy, takes a few minutes breather during a lull in the fighting with the Viet Cong in Saigon.

Losses Soar On Both Sides As Fights Rage

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantry and armored units battled die-hard Communist forces in Saigon again today as the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese pushed their biggest offensive of the Vietnam war up and down South Vietnam for the third day.

As fighting continued to rage in South Vietnam's capital, the Communists rampaged through other key government cities and took control of important areas in some of them. The situation appeared critical at many points.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam, predicted the Communists would follow the current drive with a still bigger campaign against South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces, Quang Tri and Thua Thien, where the U.S. Marines are on guard below the demilitarized zone.

The Communists were paying a heavy price in their current offensive. Westmoreland said 5,800 enemy troops had been killed across the country, more than the toll usually reported for two or three weeks of fighting.

Allied casualties also were high: 555 killed, including 232 Americans, and 1,698 wounded, 929 of them Americans, according to the U.S. Command.

Civilian casualties mounted into the thousands across the country, with estimates of up to 2,000 killed or wounded in Saigon alone.

American armored and infantry troops were rushed from other critical areas into some of the threatened cities, including Saigon. As U.S. tanks, armored personnel carriers and infantrymen from three divisions pushed through the streets of the capital to root out enemy resistance, Viet Cong soldiers and political cadre began to surface openly in some thickly populated parts of the capital.

In at least two parts of Saigon, men were knocking on doors and announcing: "We are from the National Liberation Front. We have come to liberate Saigon."

There were reports the National Liberation Front—the Viet Cong's political arm—had announced the formation of a revolutionary council to run Saigon.

LT. Gen. Frederick C. Weyand, commander of the U.S. forces in the Saigon area, said intelligence officers have identified five enemy battalions—2,000 men—in the Saigon fighting.

Reports flowed into Saigon of unabated fighting up and down the country, with enemy troops reported in control of key sections of Hue, the old imperial capital, and Quang Tri, in the northern provinces; Dalat, Kone Thuet, in the central highlands, and Ben Tre and Binh Long, in the Mekong Delta.

Gen. Weyand said Hanoi had decided to commit from 21 to 30 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese battalions, as many as 12,000 troops, to the battle for Saigon and the provinces around it. He said some North Vietnamese army regulars had been taken prisoner in Saigon, the first time North Vietnamese troops have been reported fighting in the capital city.

Minimum Wage Hikes in Effect

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal minimum wage rose to $1.60 an hour today for 33 million workers and to $1.15 for another 8.5 million job-holders.

But because most workers already are paid above the minimum, some 7.3 million people actually will get pay hikes — about $2.3 billion more a year.

There was mixed reaction among operators of hotels, hospitals and restaurants, where the new minimums will have the most effect.

Some said they'll raise prices while others said prices will remain stable, at least for now. Some talked of layoffs or reducing overtime to cut labor costs but others said they already were paying at the rate of the new minimum wage.

The increases are the second step in federal wage-law changes that boosted the minimum from $1.25 to $1.40 per hour last Feb. 1 for the 33 million workers already covered by the Fair Labor Standard Act and brought 8.5 million additional workers under the law starting at a $1 hourly minimum.

The increases were enacted by Congress in 1966.

An estimated six million workers whose jobs were covered before the 1966 amendments will get more pay under the latest increase from $1.40 to $1.60.

About 1.3 million of the workers brought under the law last year will benefit from the new $1.15 minimum.

Officers Named by Berger Board

Hospital's Income And Expenses Increase during '67

Officers were elected Wednesday night during Berger Hospital's Board of Governors' first meeting of the new year.

Emmitt L. Crist, Circleville attorney and long-time board member, was re-elected first vice president of the board with Russ Palm elected second vice president. President is Richard L. Gerhardt, by virtue of his office as mayor.

Crist presided at last night's session in Gerhardt's absence due to conflicting meetings.

According to a financial report, presented by Harry Clifton, the adjusted gross income of the hospital was up 15 per cent during 1967. The gross income for 1967 was $774,152.43 as compared to $672,948.49 in 1966.

CLIFTON noted, however, that by the same token expenses of the hospital had increased 21 per cent. Operating expenses for 1967 were $739,070.83 compared to $607,602.64 in 1966. Clifton said the increase was due in part to inflation and in part to the normal salary schedule increases. He added that something would have to be done in the near future to offset the percentage increase in expenses.

A lengthy discussion centered about the use of the maternity wing for other surgical and medical patient care. According to a report from the medical staff, "other hospitals were using obstetrical wings for surgery etc.," and the staff could not see any reason why Berger's couldn't be utilized more.

It was pointed out by James Stambaugh, administrator, that State Department of Health regulations prohibit the use of Berger's maternity wing for other use because of its location in relation to the rest of the hospital.

Bids for air conditioning the hospital are to be opened Feb. 16 in Stambaugh's office. The board hopefully plans to have the project completed by late spring.

In other action, negotiations are underway with the Fair Board to secure storage space for a Packaged Disaster Hospital offered to Berger by the Department of Health. Russ Palm, board member, is expected to have a proposal at the February meeting.

STAMBAUGH was given permission to purchase a new double viewing apparatus for the X-ray department at a cost of $501.30. The administrator noted the department was in need of more floor space to help curb the overcrowded conditions personnel are working under.

The administrator also voted that plans are underway for updating the recovery room. New lighting, ceiling and other equipment is being installed to make the recovery room more efficient.

He also noted the Heart Assn. had offered to sponsor two nurses at a special 2-week clinic on "heart patient care" in April.

Keep Lid On Prison Farm Probe

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has announced that he wants all bodies exhumed from the grassy field where three skeletons were dug up Monday. And he says he wants to restrict investigations to the one being conducted by state police.

Meanwhile in Houston, Tex., and Fresno, Calif., former Arkansas penitentiary inmates told newsmen they watched prison guards slay 10 convicts who may be buried beneath some of the numerous depressions in the field.

The Arkansas chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has asked U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark to have the Justice Department investigate. The Arkansas Legislative Council and the Lincoln County grand jury also are considering investigations.

The bones already exhumed were sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington for analysis, while Arkansas State Police continued to base their investigation on the assumption that the field is a pauper's graveyard.

LBJ Asks Tax Boost, Moratorium on Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called Thursday for a temporary no-strike truce between industry and labor, a tax increase "in the next few weeks" and a study of possible new wage-price guideposts.

In his annual Economic Report, Johnson warned Congress the business advance is running "too fast for safety." The nation must choose quickly, he said, whether it wants to avoid a "feverish boom" leading to "a possible financial crisis, and perhaps ultimately a recession."

The expansion can be moderated by prompt enactment of his proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge to a high but healthy production gain of $61 billion he said. That would bring 1968 output to a record $846 billion.

He endorsed a voluntary moratorium on strikes in major industries to keep American goods available and competitive in world markets and prevent further balance-of-payments trouble.

The President also announced establishment of a Cabinet committee on Price Stability directed to develop means of fostering price and wage stability. Among other devices the committee will try to draft a formula for voluntary restraint in wage and price decisions.

The panel will not intervene "in specific current wage or price matters," Johnson said, but he indicated it will seek some guidelines device to replace the virtually defunct wage-price guideposts promulgated under President John F. Kennedy.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers whose new chairman, Arthur M. Okun, will head the Cabinet committee said in its own report, transmitted to Congress along with Johnson's, that a series of conferences will be started shortly with representatives of labor, business and the public.

The aim, said the council, will be "to attempt to reach some consensus on appropriate general standards to guide private price and wage decisions."

Johnson's report was the last of three major presidential messages sent annually to a new session of Congress. Its demand for approval of the proposed $10.2 billion surtax, to become effective April 1 for individuals and retroactive to Jan. 1 for corporations, was delivered in even stronger terms than in the State of the Union and budget messages.

But Johnson never mentioned a threat of price or wage ceilings. And his council used such terms as "folly," "repugnant," "arbitrary," and "clumsy" in rejecting direct controls.

In his own 11,000-word portion of the message, the President: Vowed anew not to devalue the dollar. The U.S. commitment to maintain gold at $35 an ounce is firm and clear, he said, adding:

"We will not be a party to raising its price. The dollar will continue to be kept as good as or better than gold."

Asked speedy action by Congress to erase the requirement that the bulk of the gold stock remain frozen as a currency reserve. Freezing it for sale to maintain the $35 price, Johnson said, will demonstrate U.S. readiness to meet its commitments.

Reiterated his Jan. 1 directives to close the balance-of-payments deficit, urging Americans to postpone travel outside the Western Hemisphere for two years.

Denounced the movement in Congress to impose import quotas on steel and a score of other products. This would be "retreating into shortsighted protectionism," Johnson said, and would bring swift retaliation against U.S. goods, thus penalizing all Americans.

"Protectionism is no answer to our balance-of-payments problem," the President added. "Its solution depends on expanding world trade."

To the latter end, Johnson announced he shortly will send Congress legislation to extend unused tariff-cutting authority and take other steps toward freer trade.

More Money and Men Said Possible for Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson may have to reassess U.S. troop commitments in Vietnam and seek more money to beef up American forces in the Korean area, says Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

As Mansfield discussed the possible increase in the U.S. military punch in the wake of Viet Cong raids in South Vietnam and the Pueblo crisis, there was a hint the North Koreans may be willing to discuss directly with American officials return of the Navy intelligence ship and her 83 men.

A broadcast from Pyongyang, North Korea, quoted Kim Kwang Hyup, secretary of the Central Committee of the North Korean Workers (Communist) party as saying there is a precedent for dealing with such a case before the Korean Military Armistice Commission in Panmunjom, Korea.

In Washington, the State Department declined comment on whether this country would make a second effort at Panmunjom to settle the crisis. The North Koreans spurned a U.S. demand a week ago at the armistice site for release of the ship and crew.

Nixon Jumps Into Presidential Race In New Hampshire

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon announced today in an open letter to the citizens of New Hampshire that he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The former vice president told the people of that state "the choices we face are larger than any differences among Republicans or among Democrats, larger even than the differences between the parties. They are beyond politics."

Nixon said in his long-expected declaration: "Peace and freedom in the world, and peace and progress here at home, will depend on the decisions of the next President of the United States. For these critical years, America needs new leadership."

He plans to take off next on a six-day campaign swing through New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Oklahoma.

New Hampshire holds its first-in-the-nation primary March 12 and Wisconsin's primary follows April 2. Oklahoma convenes the first GOP state convention on Feb. 24 to elect delegates to the August Miami Beach convention.

Nixon, current leader in all the polls of GOP voters, carried all three states in his narrow 1960 loss to John F. Kennedy and they will give the first indications of his strength in the present campaign.

Nixon's schedule calls for a news conference in Manchester, N. H., on Friday, and on Saturday he attends a Manchester reception with his wife and daughters and speaks at a Nixon for President dinner in Concord.

Nixon, now 55, has been in politics since his election to Congress from California in 1946. He went over to the Senate in 1951 and was vice president under President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1961.

After his unsuccessful 1960 bid to follow Eisenhower in the White House he returned to California and in 1962 was defeated when he ran for governor of the state.

He read himself out of politics then in a famous press conference and soon moved to New York where he entered private law practice. But before long he was back making speeches and appearances for the party.

In 1964 Nixon did not make a major open bid for the GOP nomination and he gave Barry Goldwater full support in his losing campaign.

Now he has assembled a young brain trust at his New York headquarters which operates out of new offices on Fifth Avenue.

Girl Strangled, Officials Report

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A suburban Toledo teen-age girl whose body was found Tuesday in a field in Michigan died of strangulation, authorities said Wednesday. She also had been beaten on the head.

The body of 14-year-old Eileen Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Adams of Sylvania Township, was found in a field in Monroe County, Mich., about 20 miles north of here.

Miss Adams had been missing since she left Toledo Central Catholic High School, where she was a freshman on Dec. 18. Her body was found wrapped in a rug and her hands and feet were bound.

Bond Issue Vote Slated Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A subcommittee report on Gov. James A. Rhodes' $850 million bond issue proposal was before the Senate Finance Committee today for approval that would set the stage for a floor vote next week.

Finance Chairman Robert R. Shaw R-16 Columbus said the subcommittee agreed on a half dozen amendments but made no changes in proposed allocations of $550 million for highways and $300 million for capital improvements.

By an 88-0 vote, the House passed and sent to the Senate a measure banning sawed-off shotguns or rifles except by permission of the adjutant general with posting of $5,000 bond. Sponsors termed it a bill "to help safety in the streets."

Under the bill, shotguns with barrels under 18 inches would be illegal along with rifles with less than a 16-inch barrel. Either would be outlawed with an overall length less than 26 inches.

Illegal ownership or possession would be punishable by a 1-10 year prison term and illegal sale and transfer by 15 years.

Senators voted without dissent to create an Ohio Higher Education Facility Commission to issue revenue bonds to finance construction at private colleges and universities.

Bonds would be retired by state leasing of the facilities to the colleges, which would take over ownership after bonds were paid off.

Viet Red Executed

SAIGON (AP) — The chief of South Vietnam's national police executed a Viet Cong officer captured in a fight near the An Quang pagoda today.

The chief, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Loan, fired a revolver bullet into the head of the officer, a touse-haired Vietnamese in civilian garb who had been seized by government marines.

"They killed many Americans and many of my people," Loan said.

Communist bands, in addition to gunning for allied military personnel, had staged several executions since the outbreak of the fighting here Wednesday.

Wives and children of Vietnamese officers were among the victims.

Floods Possible By Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warning of possible flooding were issued Thursday by the U.S. Weather Bureau for areas south of Columbus in the Scioto River Valley.

Howard Kenny, supervising meteorologist of the bureau at Port Columbus, said streams and creeks in the Circleville and Picketon areas could crest three or four feet above flood levels by Saturday if an expected inch of rain developed today and early Friday in Central Ohio and the Scioto River valley.

Waterways are expected to reach flood levels in the Chillicothe, Prospect and LaRue areas also.

Minimum Wage Hikes in Effect

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal minimum wage rose to $1.60 an hour today for 33 million workers and to $1.15 for another 8.5 million job-holders.

But because most workers already are paid above the minimum, some 7.3 million people actually will get pay hikes—about $2.3 billion more a year.

There was mixed reaction among operators of hotels, hospitals and restaurants, where the new minimums will have the most affect.

Some said they'll raise prices while others said prices will remain stable, at least for now. Some talked of layoffs or reducing overtime to cut labor costs but others said they already were paying at the rate of the new minimum wage.

The increases are the second step in federal wage-law changes that boosted the minimum from $1.25 to $1.40 per hour last Feb. 1 for the 33 million workers already covered by the Fair Labor Standard Act and brought 8.5 million additional workers under the law starting at a $1 hourly minimum.

The increases were enacted by Congress in 1966.

An estimated six million workers whose jobs were covered before the 1966 amendments will get more pay under the latest increase from $1.40 to $1.60.

About 1.3 million of the workers brought under the law last year will benefit from the new $1.15 minimum.

Officers Named by Berger Board

Hospital's Income And Expenses Increase during '67

Officers were elected Wednesday night during Berger Hospital's Board of Governors' first meeting of the new year.

Emmitt L. Crist, Circleville attorney and long-time board member, was re-elected first vice president of the board with Russ Palm elected second vice president. President is Richard L. Gerhardt, by virtue of his office as mayor.

Crist presided at last night's session in Gerhardt's absence due to conflicting meetings.

According to a financial report, presented by Harry Clifton, the adjusted gross income of the hospital was up 15 per cent during 1967. The gross income for 1967 was $774,152.43 as compared to $672,948.49 in 1966.

CLIFTON noted, however, that by the same token expenses of the hospital had increased 21 per cent. Operating expenses for 1967 were $739,070.83 compared to $607,602.64 in 1966.

Clifton said the increase was due in part to inflation and in part to the normal salary schedule increases. He added that something would have to be done in the near future to offset the percentage increase in expenses.

A lengthy discussion centered about the use of the maternity wing for other surgical and medical patient care. According to a report from the medical staff, "other hospitals were using obstetrical wings for surgery etc.," and the staff could not see any reason why Berger's couldn't be utilized more.

It was pointed out by James Stambaugh, administrator, that State Department of Health regulations prohibit the use of Berger's maternity wing for other use because of its location in relation to the rest of the hospital.

Bids for air conditioning the hospital are to be opened Feb. 16 in Stambaugh's office. The board hopefully plans to have the project completed by late spring.

In other action, negotiations are underway with the Fair Board to secure storage space for a Packaged Disaster Hospital offered to Berger by the Department of Health. Russ Palm, board member, is expected to have a proposal at the February meeting.

STAMBAUGH was given permission to purchase a new double viewing apparatus for the X-ray department at a cost of $501.30. The administrator noted the department was in need of more floor space to help curb the overcrowded conditions personnel are working under.

The administrator also voted that plans are underway for updating the recovery room. New lighting, ceiling and other equipment is being installed to make the recovery room more efficient.

He also noted the Heart Assn. had offered to sponsor two nurses at a special 2-week clinic on "heart patient care" in April.

Plane Hits Power Lines; Lands OK

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—A Trans World Airlines jet, which clipped off its radar nosecone in an apparent brush with power lines at Chicago, made a perfect landing here today.

None of the 29 passengers and seven crew members of the Convair 440 was hurt. A 15-foot section of cable was found snarled in the tail assembly.

The plane was en route from San Francisco to Dayton, Ohio, via Chicago.

Capt. Meredith Ham, whose plane was diverted from Chicago and forced to circle over Indiana two hours, made three passes over Weir Cook Airport to make sure his landing gear was all right.

Then he set down the jetliner in light rain as a fleet of fire trucks and ambulances lined the runway.

The bottom half of the plane's fiberglass nosecone was torn off and the fanlike radar antenna jammed sideways.

John Lenz, 47, an industrialist from Dayton, said a flash of light appeared to come from the right engine when the accident occurred.

"The crew told us at first they thought we had been hit by lightning," Lenz said. "Later they said they thought we hit high tension lines."

Ten passengers were shuttled by bus to Dayton. The other 19 were flown back to Chicago.

Blaze Sweeps Richwood Stores

RICHWOOD, Ohio (AP)—Fire swept over three stores in this northern Union County village early Thursday, causing damage estimated at $200,000.

The store rooms, owned by Harlan Burnside, including the Richwood Department Store and the Richwood Furniture and Appliance and a coin-operated laundry.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Fire Chief Phil Retter of Prospect estimated the damage.

Decides Against Re-Election Bid

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—State Rep. Vaughn F. Stockdale D-3 Darke has canceled his plans to run for a third term in the Ohio General Assembly just two days after announcing he would run.

Stockdale's decision was announced today by Darke County Democratic Chairman Al Winer after a party meeting Wednesday night. He said Stockdale, who had announced his candidacy Tuesday, gave no reason for canceling his plans.

LBJ Asks Tax Boost, Moratorium on Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called Thursday for a temporary no-strike truce between industry and labor, a tax increase "in the next few weeks" and a study of possible new wage-price guideposts.

In his annual Economic Report, Johnson warned Congress the business advance is running "too fast for safety." The nation must choose quickly, he said, whether it wants to avoid a "feverish boom" leading to "a possible financial crisis, and perhaps ultimately a recession."

The expansion can be moderated by prompt enactment of his proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge to a high but healthy production gain of $61 billion he said. That would bring 1968 output to a record $846 billion.

He endorsed a voluntary moratorium on strikes in major industries to keep American goods available and competitive in world markets and prevent further balance-of-payments trouble.

The President also announced establishment of a Cabinet Committee on Price Stability directed to develop means of fostering price and wage stability. Among other devices the committee will try to draft a formula for voluntary restraint in wage and price decisions.

The panel will not intervene "in specific current wage or price matters," Johnson said. But he indicated it will seek some guidelines device to replace the virtually defunct wage-price guideposts promulgated under President John F. Kennedy.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers whose new chairman, Arthur M. Okun, will head the Cabinet committee said in its own report, transmitted to Congress along with Johnson's, that a series of conferences will be started shortly with representatives of labor, business and the public.

The aim, said the council, will be "to attempt to reach some consensus on appropriate general standards to guide private price and wage decisions."

Johnson's report was the last of three major presidential messages sent annually to a new session of Congress. Its demand for approval of the proposed $10.2 billion surtax, to become effective April 1 for individuals and retroactive to Jan. 1 for corporations, was delivered in even stronger terms than in the State of the Union and budget messages.

But Johnson never mentioned a threat of price or wage ceilings. And his council used such terms as "folly," "repugnant," "arbitrary," and "clumsy" in rejecting direct controls.

In his own 11,000-word portion of the message, the President:

Vowed anew not to devalue the dollar. The U.S. commitment to maintain gold at $35 an ounce is firm and clear, he said, adding:

"We will not be a party to raising its price. The dollar will continue to be kept as good as or better than gold."

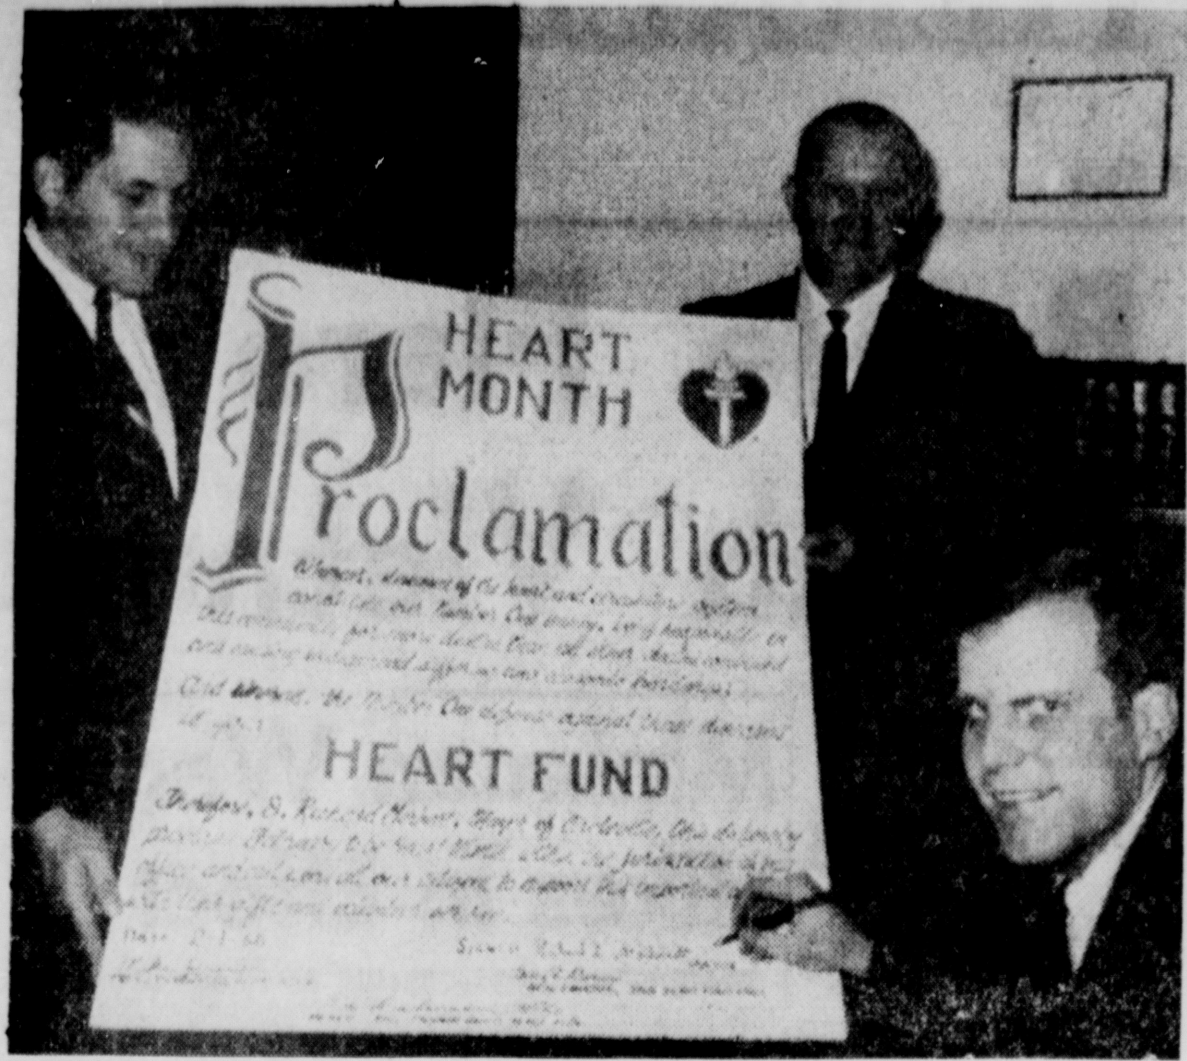

Asked speedy action by Congress to erase the requirement that the bulk of the gold stock remain frozen as a currency reserve. Freezing it for sale to maintain the $35 price, Johnson said, will demonstrate U.S. readiness to meet its commitments.

Reiterated his Jan. 1 directives to close the balance-of-payments deficit, urging Americans to postpone travel outside the Western Hemisphere for two years.

Denounced the movement in Congress to impose import quotas on steel and a score of other products. This would be "retreating into shortsighted protectionism," Johnson said, and would bring swift retaliation against U.S. goods, thus penalizing all Americans.

"Protectionism is no answer to our balance-of-payments problem," the President added. "Its solution depends on expanding world trade."

To the latter end, Johnson announced he shortly will send Congress legislation to extend unused tariff-cutting authority and take other steps toward freer trade.

FEBRUARY IS HEART MONTH — Circleville Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt signs the proclamation designating February as Heart Month. Terry Sloan (left), general chairman and Mike Brown (right), president of the Pickaway County Heart Association, urge all local citizens to contribute to the heart fund on Sunday, Feb. 25, when volunteers will make a door-to-door solicitation.

Holycross Is Cancer Fund Head

ROBERT HOLYCROSS

Robert Holycross, 413 Cedar Heights Road, has been named campaign chairman of the Pickaway County Cancer Society's annual fund raising drive to be held April 21-27.

The county organization has set $7,500 as the goal for the donation it hopes to be able to contribute to the National Cancer Society from funds collected in a county-wide door-to-door solicitation.

Holycross, who received his education at Ohio State and Otterbein Universities, was the owner and general manager of Scioto Construction Co. until 1962 when he went to work for Big Bear S. Sorens.

Since moving to Circleville from Columbus in 1966, Holycross has become an active member of the Methodist Church, committee chairman in Sertoma Club, senior high adviser for Methodist Youth Fellowship and publicity chairman for Community Fund.

Recorder Files For 2nd Term

MRS. HAZEL YEATTS

The Democrat incumbent Pickaway County Recorder, Hazel M. Yeatts, has announced that she has filed her petitions with the Board of Elections for re-election to the office of county recorder.

Mrs. Yeatts, who was elected to office in 1964, took office for her first full term in 1965. She had previously completed the unexpired term of Mrs. Florence T. Campbell, from May, 1963 to January, 1965.

Mrs. Yeatts is a member of the First Methodist Church and a life-long resident of Pickaway County. She is a graduate of Circleville High School and Office Training School, Columbus.

She is a member of the Ohio Recorders Assn. and a past liaison officer of Zone 9 of the association; a member of the Pickaway County Democrat Women's Club; a member of the Atwater PTA; The American Legion Auxiliary; and of the Demolay Mother's Club.

Mrs. Yeatts and her two sons, Thomas, age 17 and Jerry Lee, age 9, live at 507 N. Pickaway St.

During her past year as Pickaway County Recorder, Mrs. Yeatts has had all records dating back as far as 1810 microfilm for security purposes; has processed a total of 2,626 recordings and 2,096 financing statements.

Experienced in county government, Mrs. Yeatts was secretary to a former prosecuting attorney, George E. Gerhardt, from 1937 to 1945, and worked in the county auditor's office prior to her appointment in 1963 to her present post.

She was Pickaway County's first woman deputy when she became a part-time aid to Sheriff Charles Radcliff in 1943.

Area Students To Engage in Study Program

A total of 340 students in the Circleville City School District will participate in educational status improvement projects approved by the State Department of Education Monday.

The five-month projects were made possible through special subsidies provided by the 107th General Assembly for auxiliary services for disadvantaged youth. The total cost of the three programs will be $5,334.

One hundred elementary school children who show signs of falling behind, lack of direction from home and without a sense of purpose will participate in a counseling assistance project.

A part-time secretary will be employed to relieve the elementary principal for counseling to improve attitude, sense of purpose and encourage achievement.

The use of four teacher aides to assist teachers with non-instructional duties in classrooms will improve individualized opportunity for a target group of 120 pupils, grades kindergarten through six.

Another 120 elementary students will benefit from a project where supplementary science equipment and materials will be purchased to correlate with the basic science programs.

The projects are three of many the State Department of Education will authorize to improve the educational status of disadvantaged youth.

Police Investigate Alleged Forgery

Circleville Police are investigating a reported forgery in which two checks totaling $100 had been passed.

Patty Ebert of Laurelville reported the forgery. She said her personalized check book had been stolen from her purse and the forger was now using the checks.

The two checks recovered, both for $50, were passed at Kroger and at A&P super markets.

dependent if he was born or died in 1967—but not a stillborn child—if you contributed more than half his support for that part of the year in which he was alive.

There is a key figure—age 19—in determining whether you can claim your own child, step-child or adopted child as a dependent. But remember, before going further, that anyone, under or over 19, who had $600 or more income of his own must file a return, taking his own $600 exemption there and paying any tax owed.

But suppose you had an under 19 child for whom you contributed more than half his support. In that case it makes no difference how much income he had, below or above $600, or whether he had to file his own return and take his own exemption.

You could claim him as a dependent and take a $600 exemption on your return for him, and you wouldn't have to report his income.

The key point there is simply this: He was under 19, your child, and you contributed more than half his support. That was the test.

But the rule is not quite the same if he was 19 or older and had $600 or more taxable income of his own, even though you provided more than half his support.

In a situation like that you could not, unless he qualified as a full-time student, claim an exemption for him. You could claim it if he qualified as a full-time student and got more than half his support from you. He would be considered your dependent.

The key point there was his being a full-time student. You could claim a child under or over 19 as a dependent and take an exemption for him if his income was under $600 and you provided more than half his support, whether or not he was a full-time student.

Your 19-or-older child could not qualify as a full-time student if he was employed full time during the day, even though he attended night school, or took a correspondence course.

But if your full-time student dependent won a scholarship, it is not considered a part of total support in figuring whether you contributed to more than half his support. You could claim a $600 exemption for him.

You can claim as a dependent a friend who lived in your home a full year and got more than half his support from you, but not if he had $600 or more income. Then he'd have to file his own return, take his own exemption.

You can not claim a servant in your home as a dependent.

But you can claim any of the following relatives as a dependent if he or she got more than half his or her support from you but not if that relative had $600 or more taxable income:

Your grandchild, great-grandchild, and so on; your legally adopted child or stepchild but not the latter's descendants; your brother, sister, half-brother or half-sister; your parents, grandparents or other direct ancestors; your stepmother or stepfather but not a foster parent; your aunt or uncle; your niece or nephew; your father-in-law, mother-in-law, daughter-in-law, son-in-law, brother-in-law.

But generally you couldn't claim any of that group as a dependent if he or she lived overseas, unless that relative was a U.S. citizen.

Suppose one of those relatives had nontaxable income, say $1,000. Could you claim him as a dependent? Yes, so long as you paid more than half his support.

Neither death nor divorce ends any of the above relationships. For example: You can claim your father-in-law as a dependent, if you provided more than half his support, even though your wife is dead or divorced.

A relative doesn't have to live with you for you to claim him or her as a dependent. Example: You may have been paying more than half the support of your mother who lives with your sister.

If a dependent died in 1967 but you paid more than half his support for that part of the year in which he was alive, you could claim him as a dependent on your 1967 return and take a $600 exemption for him, if he did not have $600 or more taxable income of his own.

One more point: Suppose you paid more than half the support of your married child but he, or she, filed a joint return with his or her spouse. Could you claim an exemption for that child? No.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNNEIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The proposed federal budget appears to be a matter of life and death—of spending to improve man's physical condition, and spending to ward off threats to it, partly by the maintenance of a deadly arsenal.

This may not be apparent immediately, because figures as large as those in the new budget defy comprehension. So uncomprehensible are they with figures we usually relate to—such as a paycheck—that they are nearly meaningless.

The per capita figures for a few selected items tell the story better. In the new proposals for fiscal 1969, which begins July 1 and ends exactly one year later, the average of government spending for every man, woman and child would be:

—About $10.50 for expanding the job training program, with the aim of placing 500,000 hard-core unemployed in private industry jobs.

—$12.45 for maintenance and development of natural resources, so as to strengthen the nation's economic base and provide recreational opportunities for its growing population.

—$13.92 for housing and community development, with the aim of providing six million new housing units for low- and middle-income families over the next 10 years.

—$14.50 for foreign aid, made up of $12.50 for economic development loans and grants and $2 for military assistance to nations fighting Communist aggression and infiltration.

—$22.87 for space research and technology.

—$23.50 for public education projects in which the federal government is involved, including grants for improving the elementary and secondary education of nine million youngsters from low-income families.

—$36.70 for veterans' services and benefits.

—$72 for interest on the national debt, which is now more than $387 billion.

Although many Americans will always be shocked at the size of national debt, perhaps with considerable justification, most of the figures detailed so far are only a fraction of the guns and butter items that follow.

—$131.32 for military and economic affairs in Vietnam.

—$257 for health, labor and welfare. "Programs that help develop our most valuable resource—our people," as President Johnson said.

—$270 for national defense, excluding Vietnam but including Civil Defense, atomic energy and "defense-related" activities such as the stockpiling of strategic goods and the operation of Selective Service.

These figures hardly represent sharp departures from recent trends, for they have been rising, although irregularly, for close to three decades now. They do, however, represent accelerations.

The result of this is to provoke much controversy over the course the nation is taking, and this argument undoubtedly will be foremost in the thoughts of congressmen during the next few months.

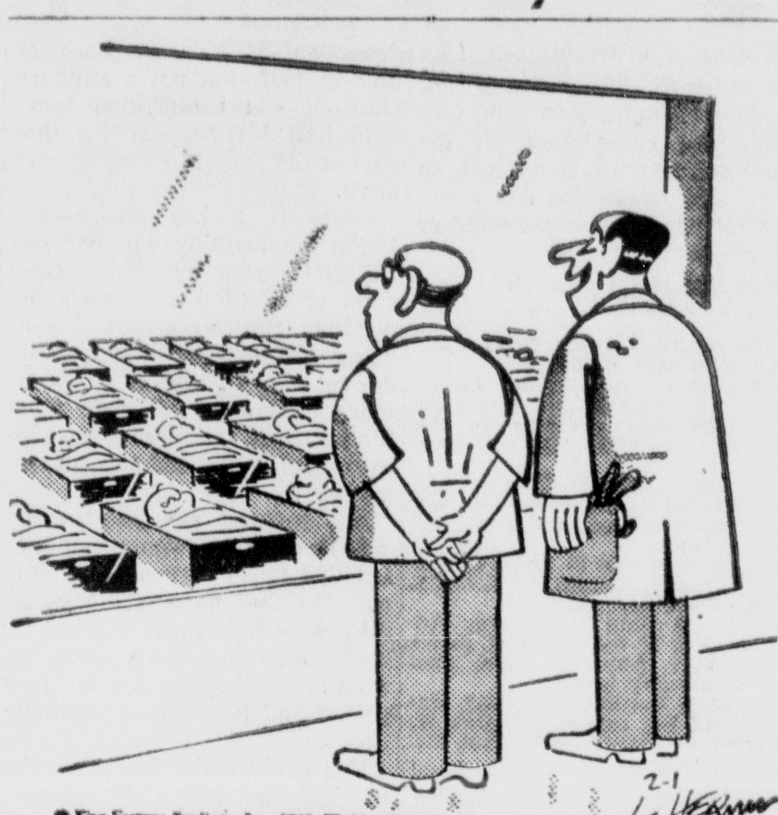

Whether the United States is heading toward a garrison economy is highly debatable, for military expenditures now, despite their large size, still do not represent as large a part of our Gross National Product as they did during the Korea War.

However, more and more items are being lumped under the heading of "national security." This category of expenditures once referred mainly to military affairs. But now an assortment of defense-related activities—atomic energy, space programs and so forth—are included.

At the same time the relationship of government and the social welfare of its people is changing, also resulting in higher spending.

These are the critical considerations—the life and death matters—in President Johnson's proposals.

Try and Stop Me

A COCKY TEXAN was a member of a small Marine detachment that was ambushed by a Viet Cong force ten times as large. A bullet caught him in the thigh, but when the enemy withdrew, he charged after them, hurling invectives, and bleeding profusely. "Come back," shouted his captain. "You're wounded, you idiot." "I know," yelled back the Texan, "but I think I know who did it!"

One of Paper Tycoon Sam Himmell's friends has a husky wife who complained of increasing deafness. "It can't be helped," a doctor told the husband after thorough investigation. "Tell your wife her condition is simply an indication of advancing years." "Not on your life," cried the husband. "YOU tell her."

A group of disgruntled employees staged a wildcat strike at a big New Jersey plant recently. "Why aren't we outside picketing?" one impatient striker demanded of his shop steward. "Hold your horses," instructed the steward. "The TV cameras aren't here yet."

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I do a considerably amount of air travel by jet from east to west and west to east. I find that my entire body seems to be knocked out of gear, and frequently after a flight I actually do not function well or think clearly. What causes this and is there any way to avoid it?

Mr. N. D. Iowa Dear Mr. D.: It is an accepted fact that the human body functions in a rhythmic way. There are rhythms for sleep, there are rhythms for hunger and cycles in many organs of the body that depend on the make-up and personality of the individual.

These rhythmic cycles are called circadian. I believe the word originates from circa, meaning around, and diem, meaning day.

Your problem occurs so frequently that administrators in the Armed Forces and the State Department are advised to expect fatigue and even psychological maladjustment after a rapid jet flight. In order to function at a maximum some suggestions are helpful. I have found a technique that seems to work well for me.

If I leave New York City for Europe, I try to fly during the day. When I arrive in England the time is about five hours earlier than it is in New York. It is a temptation, therefore, to socialize immediately with friends who have had the advantage of five hours more rest than I have had. I avoid this by not changing my watch time until after my first night's sleep. I find that if I go to sleep in England according to my own watch time rather than to their I can wake up moderately refreshed.

My advice, therefore; Sleep, and work on your body's time and not on the clock time at the place of arrival.

We live in a part of the country where the sting-ray fish is seen occasionally in the water. I have been bitten twice and have been left with a hole which does not seem to heal. Is there any way to treat such a bite immediately to avoid long periods of delayed healing?

Saxbe Outlines Campaign Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe says he may pick up support from labor if he runs against Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche this fall.

Saxbe, who is favored to win Ohio's Republican senatorial nomination in the May primary, would face the Democratic nominee—either Lausche or John J. Gilligan—in November.

Waives Extradition To Tennessee

CINCINNATI (AP) — Steve Parker, 23, of Cincinnati agreed today to return to Nashville, Tenn., where he is wanted in connection with the fatal shooting of a Nashville policeman and the wounding of another on Jan. 16.

Parker's attorneys told Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge Simon L. Leis that Parker would not resist extradition.

The World Today

By WALTER R. MEARS (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Subversive Activities Control Board may be coming back to life after two dormant years, nourished by a law some senators had hoped would put it out of business.

The board scheduled its first hearing in two years for Monday in New York to explore the U.S. attorney general's contention that the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America are "substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Communist party."

The DuBois organization asked for a delay in the hearing until Feb. 26 and it's expected to be granted.

There is a 38 per cent budget boost of $117,000 for the SACB in the spending program President Johnson has sent Congress, and it carries this explanation: "Increase will permit implementation of legislation enacted on Dec. 14, 1967."

That legislation provided the five-member agency with new Communist-spotting duties to supplant functions ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

The board, 17 years old, was set up to identify and register Communists. But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in recent Senate debate on its future the agency "failed to register a single Communist in its vapid history."

The bill, empowering the board to hold hearings and declare groups to be Communist dominated or controlled, was proposed by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and sent to the Senate without hearings. Proxmire and a bloc of Senate liberals fought it for a week, then won adoption of an amendment equiring the agency to do something or expire.

It cleared Congress with a requirement that the board hold at least one hearing in the next year, and institute at least one proceeding, or face abolition.

The controversy surrounding the SACB wasn't limited to charges it didn't accomplish anything. Last year, President Johnson appointed Simon F. McHugh, husband of a former Johnson secretary, as a board member, with a $26,000 salary. Opponents charged McHugh wasn't qualified for the job.

"For the sake of the American taxpayers and for all the American people, I hope the SACB will go out of business on June 30, 1969," Proxmire said as the measure passed the Senate. He said the board has cost the taxpayers $5 million and has not accomplished a thing.

The DuBois hearing would appear to fulfill at least half the conditions for the board's continuing existence holding at least one hearing.

But Proxmire said "it will fail totally to meet the requirement for the instituting of a proceeding," because the case was instituted in 1966.

He argued the hearing alone will not keep the board going, that it must come up with something new in 1968 or expire.

But Dirksen called the DuBois case a proceeding "that can run on and on."

"So the board is in business," he said.

James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is ill.

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that make a modern parent wonder whether posterity is worth the price:

"Nobody, not you nor anybody else, is going to run my life for me."

"After all, I didn't ask to be born, did I?"

"If you really loved me, you wouldn't complain all the time about how I run up the telephone bill."

"I'd rather not go to the dance at all then go in a dress like that, Mother. Why, they haven't been wearing dresses that long since you and Dad were young—if anybody can remember that far back."

"Carol phoned from a friend's house. She says her quarterly report card is so awful that she won't come home at all unless we both promise not to bawl her out or try to restrict her."

"If you think kids are bad at that age, Jim, just wait a couple of years more. You'll find that things get a lot worse before they get any better."

"Every other kid in our class but me has a color television set. Why do I have to be the only one who has to grow up in an underprivileged home?"

"Okay, Dad, I'll work this summer if you get me a job. Gee, you certainly don't expect me to find the job myself, do you? I wouldn't know how to begin."

"It's a waste of time arguing with either of them, Sis. All parents are alike—they're all covered with either moss or barnacles."

"So that was your old man, Judy? I don't see why you say he's such a fathead. If you want to see the fathead to end all fatheads, wait until you meet my old man."

"Why do you and Mama insist you have to meet me after the dance and bring me home? Ye gods, I'm not a child anymore. I'm 13½ years old—almost 14."

"If you punish me by making me stay in my room all Saturday afternoon, I warn you I'll do something terrible. I'll learn to take dope or something, and then you'll really be sorry."

"Just a sec, Mom. You can't expect me to drop everything, can you, just because dinner's on the table?"

"I'd rather be in jail than live in this house."

"What makes parents think they know it all when they really don't? It isn't so easy being a kid today. People expect too much of you all the time."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "...and Selected Short Subjects."

There was a time when almost every movie ad and film theater marquee bore those words. And what a world of wonder they promised:

The frenetic comedy of Donald Duck...Robert Benchley explaining in deadpan fashion "how to sleep"...James A. FitzPatrick amid the lush splendor of the upper Amazon...Edgar Kennedy doing his "slow burn" when disaster strikes his household...Bugs Bunny muttering "What's up, doc?"...Pete Smith's flat voice commenting on how to invite disaster by building your own house...

For two whole generations movie shorts added spice and variety to the bill at the local Bijou. Now the shorts have all but disappeared, and the newly founded American Film Institute intends to do something about it.

Last week institute director George Stevens Jr. came to Hollywood to announce formation of a half-million-dollar fund to encourage the making of shorts through June 30, 1970. Here's how the program will operate:

Independent and student film makers may submit proposed shorts to a committee consisting of producer-director Fred Zinnemann, actor Sidney Poitier and New York film maker Richard Leacock. If they approve the project, the professional film makers will receive grants up to $10,000 and students up to $2,500.

When the shorts are completed, they can be distributed to theaters or television through normal channels, with profits split between the film maker and the institute. The institute's profits will be placed in the fund to finance other shorts.

But will there be any profits? That may be the stumbling block to the American Film Institute's ambitious plan. For it was a lack of monetary return that killed shorts in the first place.

The movie short had its heyday in the 1920s, when every bill had a feature, a two-reel comedy, cartoon, newsreel and other attractions. The double feature came along in the depression years, when theaters needed the bargain bill to attract customers. That left room for only one or two brief subjects between the features.

As movies became more expensive for producers to make and for theaters to rent, the shorts suffered. "We're getting the same rental from our shorts that we got 15 years ago," Walt Disney once complained. For that reason he concentrated his studio's efforts on feature production and eventually gave up shorts, except as part of a package to bolster his full-length releases.

Other film companies curtailed or shut down their shorts departments. Today the majors offer little more than cheaply made cartoons, mostly based on the time-worn theme of violence, plus a few travelogues and sports features. Even the newsreel has disappeared.

Wait on Detroit Verdict

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Either Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee has second sight, or he gets early news from the Detroit grapevine. For, no sooner had he cast a cold eye on the Administration's renewed demand for the ten per cent surtax than the gloomy tidings of lagging January car sales began making the financial page headlines.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin have been unduly insistent that a tax increase is needed to head off the inflation that keeps foreigners from paying decent respect to the dollar. But the pragmatic verdict of Detroit seems to be that we've had the inflation already: its market expression in the high price of cars is getting its comeuppance in a customer strike. People just aren't buying cars in the quantity that had been predicted when the auto companies were making up their preliminary estimates of 1968 sales.

To be sure, the auto manufacturers are still optimistic about a springtime upturn. As of the third week in January they were still scheduling big February production, with GM planning a fifty per cent increase over February of a year ago, Ford going for a sixty per cent increase, and the American Motors Company tripling its planned production. But the January sales have not kept pace with deliveries, and the inventories of unsold cars in the dealers' hands have been mounting.

So Chairman Mills' premonitions have been more trustworthy than all the "fine-tuning" prognostications of the Hellers, the Ackleys, and the Okuns who make up the forecasts on which LBJ depends. It would be a transcendent joke—though a sour one—if the 1968 situation required a tax cut to stimulate the sales that are needed to give the President the tax volume he must have to carry on the war in Vietnam and to win the election next November.

The Administration is already the victim of a sour joke. Following the prodings of Ralph Nader, it went all out for car safety. So the auto companies added the restraining belts, the collapsible steering wheels, and the other devices recommended by the safety engineers. Naturally, the safety costs had to be added onto the price of the car. Far from appreciating what Nader has done for him, the customer has tended to draw back. Rather than pay the higher monetary price for safety, some people have apparently decided to go a little longer with the unsafe old car. Others are buying the Japanese Toyota. The Toyota, like the Volkswagen, is one of the smaller makes, which automatically means less safety on the truck-crowded American highways.

Since labor contracts are written for a number of years ahead, there is no immediate way of cutting the labor cost out of prices. Nobody is going to sell below the costs of production. The only way the government can spark the boom that is necessary to keep its tax volume up is to leave more money in the pockets of prospective buyers. Apparently this is what Congressman Mills had in the back of his mind when he indicated that he could give Secretary of the Treasury Fowler no hope for a tax increase without really significant cuts in government spending. The Ways and Means chairman doesn't see many expenditures around clamoring to get rid of their cash; indeed, the news is that the rate of savings deposit increases is up.

If the hoped-for automobile boom doesn't materialize within the next few weeks, the effects will be felt all through the economy. As Detroit goes, so goes steel and, to a lesser extent, aluminum. With steel down, there will be less income to be taxed—or surtaxed. Not even the prospects of a steel strike will lead to the forward buying of raw steel that the Administration has been counting on.

The European central bankers have been telling the American banker representatives in the international "gold pool" that the ten per cent surtax would help restore confidence in the U. S. dollar. But if the U. S. domestic economy falters because of consumer resistance, imports from Europe will fall, too. Production, not taxes, is the key to everybody's troubles, both in Europe and in America. The central bankers may keep their eyes on gold balances, but this column keeps its eyes on Detroit, which is the city that must be consulted before tax decisions are taken.

Sub Lost Since 1943 Said Spotted

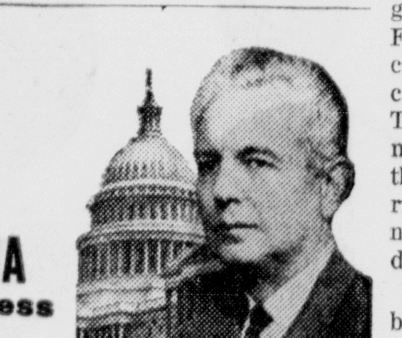

PERTH, Australia (AP) — The U.S. Navy submarine Triton, missing off the Australian coast since July 1943, is believed to have been spotted 20 miles east of Esperance, off the southwest coast.

An airline charter pilot said he sighted the submarine two miles offshore with a badly rusted gun on deck and the conning tower above water.

The Triton disappeared after leaving Fremantle, then a big U.S. submarine base.

Sailor Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy Hospitalman Keith R. Bacon, whose widow, Jo Ann, lives in Warren, Ohio, has been killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department said Wednesday.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From
WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

In no area of our national welfare is the Administration's short-sightedness more apparent than in its treatment of the American farmer.

Having trusted him up with a welter of conflicting controls and restrictions designed to make him the most completely supervised man in the economy, it has virtually kicked him out of the wagon and abandoned him at the bottom of the economic ladder.

With our national honor at an all time low throughout the world, our currency in unprecedented jeopardy and our very security threatened, the Administration's super-planners have managed to undermine the people who produce the nation's bread and butter.

The hardest working and most self-reliant among us have been reduced to poverty levels comparable, in many cases, to those of our cities' hard core unemployed.

In spite of the fact that nearly every other segment of our society is enjoying higher incomes, farm parity is as low as it was at the depth of the great depression.

Farm debts are at new highs and production costs and interest rates are skyrocketing. It's no wonder thousands of farmers are giving up and moving to the cities.

Even with the balance of payment heavily against us, the Administration refuses to place realistic limits on meat and leather imports from nations whose producers are subsidized and who pay labor less in a month than we do in a week.

The defense Department continues to spend scarce dollars for millions of pounds of meat from overseas suppliers, and government reserves built up to meet the needs of other nations, are dumped on the domestic market.

While the President, in his State of the Union Message, spoke of new and bigger "give away" schemes to fight poverty in the cities, he almost overlooked the growing plight of the American farmer, whose average per capita income is down to about $1,700 per year.

He dismissed the crisis in the nation's first and basic industry with two short vague sentences recommending a security commodity reserve and bargaining powers for farmers.

The American farmer is the back bone of our economy and the last real vestige of free private enterprise. Unless this government changes its policy, the plight of the farmer will not improve.

Every effort should be exerted by our government to enable the American farmer to obtain a fair share of our national income.

Views on TV - Radio

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Two stage classics, each more than 30 years old, brought a luminescence to the television screen Wednesday night rarely seen this season.

First, there was Maxwell Anderson's "Elizabeth the Queen," a 90-minute Hall of Fame presentation on NBC. Then, ABC's two-hour recreation of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men." It was to the viewer's advantage that they did not overlap.

How alike, and how different they were.

One was a drama of love and intrigue in the splendor of the Elizabethan court. The other was a chronicle of two hapless migrant workers in the Depression caught up in a dream they could not realize.

Both plays revolved around the relationships of two people trapped by circumstances—in one instance, a queen and a nobleman seeking her love and her throne, and in the other, a wandering farm hand and the half-witted companion he is bound to protect. In each, one is compelled to execute the other.

Dame Judith Anderson portrayed Queen Elizabeth with an incandescence. She was a woman tormented by love, yet willful enough to sacrifice that love for power and duty. In the final scene, as she wavered—yearning for love, yet knowing Lord Essex would bring England to ruin—she was particularly moving.

Charlton Heston was splendid as Essex, the larger-than-life popular hero, whose ambition and vanity and pride made him hell-bent for disaster.

George Schaefer's production was well staged, the supporting cast was excellent and the players were magnificently costumed in a rich mixture of color.

In counterpoint to the Elizabethan play, "Of Mice and Men" achieved force as a low-key drama. The direction was unobtrusive and the color was muted like a pale water color.

George Segal brought an earthy compassion to the role of George, the protector of a dim-witted giant, Lennie. Yet, the play properly belonged to Nicol Williamson and Will Geer.

Williamson played Lennie with a child-like grace. He dreamed of owning a farm with George, where they could raise rabbits and he could pet them. But his affectionate strokes led to death—first that of a puppy, then of the trollop wife of a boss's son.

Lennie's trust in George remained to the very end, when George put a bullet into the back of his head to keep him from dying at the hands of others.

Geer was Candy, the role he created on Broadway in 1937. On his face could be read all of the woes of a man beaten down by life.

Joey Heatherton played the teasing wife with a wistful innocence.

David Susskind's recreation of stage and movie classics for ABC this season has been uneven, but this one ranks with the brilliant "Diary of Anne Frank."

Princess Benedikte Weds Saturday; Last of Trio

By JOHN GALE
Associated Press Writer

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — As royal weddings go, Saturday's ceremony for Princess Benedikte will be somewhat subdued, matching her shy and unobtrusive nature.

The princess, second in line to Europe's oldest throne, is the last to wed of the three daughters of King Frederik IX and Queen Ingrid.

There will be nothing to match the regal pageantry of Athens in 1964 when her younger sister married King Constantine to become Queen Anne-Marie of Greece.

Nor will there be a carbon-copy repeat of last June's colorful royal wedding in Copenhagen when her elder sister Princess Margrethe was married to a former French diplomat who is now Prince Henrik of Denmark.

Benedikte has chosen the family chapel at the royal Fredensborg estate 25 miles north of Copenhagen for her own nuptials. There amid familiar surroundings, she will become the bride of German Prince Richard Zu Sayn-Wittgenstein, who owns and manages a large forested ancestral estate near the small

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Warm moist air was pouring northward into Ohio today and showers and scattered thunderstorms were forecast west this morning and east this afternoon.

Early morning temperatures were in the 40s and highs today were expected to be in the 50s and 60s.

Gusty southerly winds of 20 to 30 miles per hour today will change to westerly late tonight and Friday as colder air moves in and showers change to snow flurries. Lows tonight are expected to be in the 20s west to 40s east.

OHIO — Windy and turning colder with snow flurries west late tonight and over state Friday. Low tonight 20s west to 40s east.

CENTRAL OHIO — Cloudy, windy and warm with scattered showers or possible thunderstorms tonight. Low tonight low to mid 30s, Friday cloudy and turning colder with chance of light snow.

SOUTHEAST OHIO—Cloudy, windy and warm with scattered showers or thundershowers tonight. Low tonight in 30s. Friday cloudy and turning colder with chance of light snow.

NORTHWEST OHIO—Windy and turning colder tonight and Friday. Low tonight in 20s and low 30s.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Mostly cloudy, windy and turning colder with occasional rain or showers tonight, lows in 30s. Friday cloudy to partly cloudy and colder.

Westphalian town of Berleburg. He is 32, she 23.

After the ceremony, the couple will take a 20-minute drive in an illuminated car through the streets of Fredensborg, little more than a large village.

Benedikte has always been the quietest, though some say prettiest, of Denmark's three royal sisters. Like all of them she is in direct lineal descent from a Viking plunderer named Gorm the Old who died about 950 A.D. the first Danish king recognized by historians.

Today the royal house represents a conscientious constitutional monarchy existing within a self-governing democracy. There is no serious republicanism among Danes and no party for such a movement. The matter is not even openly debated among Social Democratic politicians who are more active on the issue in other Scandinavian lands.

Without going overboard, Danes seem to like the cozy and comfortable traditions of a royal family, jingling cavalymen and guards in bearskin hats who patrol palace approaches.

Benedikte as a child walked to school with her mother, trailed by a chauffeur-driven limousine which would then pick up Queen Ingrid to return her to the palace. Crowds never gathered on such occasions. Danes seem to feel their royal family is entitled to its private moments.

At 5 feet 9 Benedikte is long-limbed and lovely. She skis in Norway most winters and is fond of horses.

Elder sister Margrethe studied at five universities, but Benedikte had an uncomplicated formal education—two Copenhagen schools and a Swiss finishing school.

She learned to sew, cook, make her own clothes and use a typewriter. Like Britain's Princess Alexandra, she has taste in clothes and often shops for herself in Copenhagen's smarter stores.

Views on TV - Radio

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Two stage classics, each more than 30 years old, brought a luminescence to the television screen Wednesday night rarely seen this season.

First, there was Maxwell Anderson's "Elizabeth the Queen," a 90-minute Hall of Fame presentation on NBC. Then, ABC's two-hour recreation of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men." It was to the viewer's advantage that they did not overlap.

How alike, and how different they were.

One was a drama of love and intrigue in the splendor of the Elizabethan court. The other was a chronicle of two hapless migrant workers in the Depression caught up in a dream they could not realize.

Both plays revolved around the relationships of two people trapped by circumstances—in one instance, a queen and a nobleman seeking her love and her throne, and in the other, a wandering farm hand and the half-witted companion he is bound to protect. In each, one is compelled to execute the other.

Today is Thursday, Feb. 1, the 32nd day of 1968. There are 334 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1790, the Supreme Court held its first session, meeting in the Royal Exchange building in New York City.

On this date: In 1861, Texas voted to secede from the Union.

In 1862, Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic" was published for the first time in the Atlantic Monthly.

Ten years ago—President Nasser announced the merger of Egypt and Syria into the United Arab Republic.

Five years ago—Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker charged the United States with unwarranted interference in Canadian affairs in a dispute over defense policies.

One year ago—House Democrats refused to restore the seniority of Rep. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, who had been dropped to the lowest rung of the ladder for supporting Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

Quotes from Presidential Economic Message Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are highlight quotes from President Johnson's Economic Message today to Congress:

Seldom can any single choice make or break an economy as strong and healthy as ours. But the series of interrelated decisions we face will affect our economy and that of the whole free world for years to come.

Most experienced observers agree that the pace now is—and in the months ahead will be—too fast for safety. The gain in gross national product in the current quarter is expected to be one of the largest in our history—a record we could gladly do without at this time.

The extraordinary achievements of our economy during the last seven years were made possible by our willingness to use fiscal and monetary policies to stimulate adequate expansion of total demand. Now, however, restraint is essential to our economic health.

Without the proposed income tax surcharge and the maintenance of current excise tax rates, the Federal sector deficit on national income account would remain close to the level of 1967.

Unless action is quickly taken to expand federal revenues, a deficit that large—in combination with a resurgent private economy—would have these consequences:

—It would speed up a wage-price spiral already turning far too rapidly.

—It would seriously impair our already difficult international economic position—by damaging confidence in the dollar, and by stimulating imports and putting exports at a competitive disadvantage.

—Financing such a deficit would increasingly strain financial markets, pushing interest rates further above record present highs, and threatening another financial squeeze and another slump in homebuilding.

... In addition to urging prompt action by the Congress

on my tax proposals I must again urge—in the strongest terms I know—that unions and business firms exercise the most rigorous restraint in their wage and price determinations in 1968.

If labor seeks 80 per cent of the total national pie and business 25 per cent, the only result can be rising prices. This inflates the pie—but does not increase its substance.

As we fulfill our responsibilities, other nations have an equal obligation to act. The balance-of-payments surpluses of our trading partners in continental Europe are essentially the mirror image of our deficit.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Times Have Made Great Change

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Sammy, the painter, that a painter is not the only man whose work enables him to classify the various types of aggressive housewives.

I am a clergyman and believe it or not, I have as many opportunities as the painter.

I no longer call on women at their homes unless I take my wife with me. (She sits in another room, but it's good insurance against lusty ladies who would make improper overtures.)

And if a woman comes to my office in a mini-skirt, my secretary has instructions to follow her in and place a large shawl over the visitor's knees. And when my secretary departs, per my orders, she leaves the door wide open.

In bygone years, it was the man who aggressively pursued the woman, but today, most women are far bolder than men. I am a grandfather, in my early sixties, and not particularly handsome, but some of the propositions I have had from married sexpots would not be believed. Even by you, Dear Lady, who must have heard everything.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: Re your advice to the mother who was afraid to leave her children with grandma because Grandma was such a poor driver: You suggested that she make Grandma promise not to take the children in the car with her before leaving them. I suspect that even if Grandma were to make such a promise, she wouldn't keep it. Besides, may I point out that if Grandma is as poor a driver as the mother said she was, it matters little whether she has the children in the car with her, or if they happen to be in the car with which Grandma has an accident.

I would suggest that the mother write to the Driver's License Bureau at her State capitol, reporting Grandma's inability to drive. Grandma will then be asked to take a physical examination as well as a written examination, which includes questions with regard to judgment and traffic laws.

If Grandma passes these tests, then she is just as qualified to drive an automobile as anyone. If she fails, the reporter will have performed a public service by removing one more menace from the roads.

In case you are wondering why I am so familiar with this procedure, I reported my GRANDPA in this manner, and now Grandma doesn't drive anymore.

DID THE RIGHT THING DEAR DID: This "procedure" may apply in your state, but I doubt if it applies in all—albeit I think it should.

DEAR ABBY: Is there something wrong with me? People tell me I'm cute and have a good personality. I can get almost any boy I want, but the only boy I want is one who belongs to somebody else.

I know it isn't right, Abby, but that's the way it is. I have lost lots of girl friends by taking their boy friends away from them, but I can't help it. I can't get interested in a boy unless he's going with some other girl. Sometimes the boy isn't even especially cute, but I want him anyway, and once I get him I don't want him anymore. I guess I am just a born flirt. It's just my nature so what can I do about it?

BORN FLIRT

DEAR FLIRT: You don't say how old you are, but if you are under 16, you may plead immaturity. Hopefully, you'll soon realize

Ten years ago—President Nasser announced the merger of Egypt and Syria into the United Arab Republic.

Five years ago — Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker charged the United States with unwarranted interference in Canadian affairs in a dispute over defense policies.

One year ago—House Democrats refused to restore the seniority of Rep. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, who had been dropped to the lowest rung of the ladder for supporting Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

Quotes from Presidential Economic Message Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are highlight quotes from President Johnson's Economic Message today to Congress:

Seldom can any single choice make or break an economy as strong and healthy as ours. But the series of interrelated decisions we face will affect our economy and that of the whole free world for years to come.

Most experienced observers agree that the pace now is—and in the months ahead will be—too fast for safety. The gain in gross national product in the current quarter is expected to be one of the largest in our history—a record we could gladly do without at this time.

The extraordinary achievements of our economy during the last seven years were made possible by our willingness to use fiscal and monetary policies to stimulate adequate expansion of total demand. Now, however, restraint is essential to our economic health.

Without the proposed income tax surcharge and the maintenance of current excise tax rates, the Federal sector deficit on national income account would remain close to the level of 1967.

Unless action is quickly taken to expand federal revenues, a deficit that large—in combination with a resurgent private economy—would have these consequences:

—It would speed up a wage-price spiral already turning far too rapidly.

—It would seriously impair our already difficult international economic position—by damaging confidence in the dollar, and by stimulating imports and putting exports at a competitive disadvantage.

—Financing such a deficit would increasingly strain financial markets, pushing interest rates further above record present highs, and threatening another financial squeeze and another slump in homebuilding.

... In addition to urging prompt action by the Congress

on my tax proposals I must again urge—in the strongest terms I know—that unions and business firms exercise the most rigorous restraint in their wage and price determinations in 1968.

If labor seeks 80 per cent of the total national pie and business 25 per cent, the only result can be rising prices. This inflates the pie—but does not increase its substance.

As we fulfill our responsibilities, other nations have an equal obligation to act. The balance-of-payments surpluses of our trading partners in continental Europe are essentially the mirror image of our deficit.

Dear Abby: Times Have Made Great Change

By Abigail Van Euren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Sammy, the painter, that a painter is not the only man whose work enables him to classify the various types of aggressive housewives.

I am a clergyman and believe it or not, I have as many opportunities as the painter.

I no longer call on women at their homes unless I take my wife with me. (She sits in another room, but it's good insurance against lusty ladies who would make improper overtures.)

And if a woman comes to my office in a mini-skirt, my secretary has instructions to follow her in and place a large shawl over the visitor's knees. And when my secretary departs, per my orders, she leaves the door wide open.

In bygone years, it was the man who aggressively pursued the woman, but today, most women are far bolder than men. I am a grandfather, in my early sixties, and not particularly handsome, but some of the propositions I have had from married sexpots would not be believed. Even by you, Dear Lady, who must have heard everything.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: Re your advice to the mother who was afraid to leave her children with grandma because Grandma was such a poor driver: You suggested that she make Grandma promise not to take the children in the car with her before leaving them. I suspect that even if Grandma were to make such a promise, she wouldn't keep it. Besides, may I point out that if Grandma is as poor a driver as the mother said she was, it matters little whether she has the children in the car with her, or if they happen to be in the car with which Grandma has an accident.

I would suggest that the mother write to the Driver's License Bureau at her State capitol, reporting Grandma's inability to drive. Grandma will then be asked to take a physical examination as well as a written examination, which includes questions with regard to judgment and traffic laws.

If Grandma passes these tests, then she is just as qualified to drive an automobile as anyone. If she fails, the reporter will have performed a public service by removing one more menace from the roads.

In case you are wondering why I am so familiar with this procedure, I reported my GRANDPA in this manner, and now Grandpa doesn't drive anymore.

DID THE RIGHT THING
DEAR DID: This "procedure" may apply in your state, but I doubt if it applies in all—alho I think it should.

DEAR ABBY: Is there something wrong with me? People tell me I'm cute and have a good personality. I can get almost any boy I want, but the only boy I want is one who belongs to somebody else.

I know it isn't right, Abby, but that's the way it is. I have lost lots of girl friends by taking their boy friends away from them, but I can't help it. I can't get interested in a boy unless he's going with some other girl. Sometimes the boy isn't even especially cute, but I want him anyway, and once I get him I don't want him anymore. I guess I am just a born flirt. It's just my nature so what can I do about it?

BORN FLIRT
DEAR FLIRT: You don't say how old you are, but if you are under 16, you may plead immaturity.

Hopefully, you'll soon realize that it's not the boy you want at all, it's the "challenge." Teen-age dating is a highly competitive game. But the "prize" when won on a competitive basis may turn out to be a loss instead of a victory, so grow up, and be a little more selective.

Woman Legislator Cajoles Credit Reform Bill on Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I told you I'd never stop fighting for a good bill," said Rep. Leona K. Sullivan following tentative House approval of credit cost disclosure rules far broader than those passed by the Senate after eight years' effort.

For Mrs. Sullivan, a tall, blue-eyed dynamo who generated Wednesday's precedent-breaking House action, the fight had been a long one.

The consumer affairs subcommittee which she heads went to work after the Senate passed its version last year and dead-

Shortweight High on Weekend

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Internal Affairs Department says a shopper's chance of picking up a shortweight package of meat is 50 per cent greater on a weekend than on a weekday.

On the evenings of Jan. 12 and 13, Secretary John K. Tabor said Tuesday, inspections at 64 stores in 20 counties disclosed that 1,317 of the 6,355 parcels of meat were underweight. The deficiencies were noted in 39 of the 64 stores.

During the department's regular weekday checks over the past three months, Tabor said, only 14 per cent of the packages turned out to be underweight. Tabor said the largest shortages were reported among independent store owners.

Coed Cook Walks Well, Gets Job

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Wanted: Girl cook and part-time dishwasher. Must be absolute doll, with fantastic disposition and cheerleader smile. Free meals but no pay.

Think you would get an answer to an add like that? Two bachelor medical students at the University of Florida did.

Fed up with their own cooking, Harry Asch, 24, of Massapequa, N.Y., and Dave Klapper, 23, of Miami, ran an ad in the campus newspaper for a girl to cook their meals. They promptly got 33 applications for the job.

They chose Sara Leigh Wakefield, 21-year-old education major. They chose her because they liked the way she walked.

"She sort of knocked us out," Asch said. "She's a dream and a tremendous cook."

In the beginning, Asch added, "I was looking for a good cook. Dave was looking for a pretty girl. While I interviewed the girls, Dave just sat and stared."

"It looks like it will last. Dave made some passes at first but was rebuffed. Now he keeps his seat at the table."

The final decision was tough, Asch said, "but we chose Leigh when we saw her walk down the hall."

Penny-Pinching Costs Good Job

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Gov. Walter J. Hickel said Wednesday he fired his $23,789-a-year state highway commissioner because the official and his wife gave false information on a fishing license application to save $10.

Hickel said Commissioner Warren C. Gonnason and Mrs. Gonnason claimed they had lived in Alaska 18 months when they bought resident sport fishing licenses. At the time, the governor said, the former Seattle couple had been in Alaska only about five months.

One year in Alaska is required for a $5 resident license. A nonresident license is $10.

Gonnason did not deny the allegation. "I regret that I was involved in this indiscretion," he said.

She was helped by a break in the opposition ranks, but her successes were still startling—one of her key proposals, won 135 to 19.

By day's end the House had voted down virtually all the committee amendments to Mrs. Sullivan's original package. What emerged was a measure that would extend interest disclosure rules to revolving credit accounts and other credit transactions excluded by the Senate version.

Even Mrs. Sullivan's opponents conceded their chances to block House passage were minimal in a showdown vote expected later today.

Kansas City's Union Station Eyes Future

By DON REEDER
Associated Press Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Some people are blowing taps over the corpse of Kansas City's huge and venerable Union Station, but the people who run it say funeral rites are premature.

Critics argue the 53-year-old passenger terminal, like many others around the country, has outlived its usefulness and is dying along with the rail passenger service for which it was created.

But perhaps no station that has survived a bloody gangster massacre and a cattle stampede is going to give up easily.

Nobody can dispute that the station — exceeded in size only by New York's Grand Central and Pennsylvania terminals — is practically a ghost of its former self.

When the $6-million building opened amid two-day civic ceremonies in 1914, Kansas City boasted more than 200 passenger trains a day. The number now is down to 66 daily as railroads slash unprofitable passenger service as fast as government restrictions allow.

Long gone from the timetable are such nostalgic passenger train names as the Santa Fe's Panhandle and Pecos Valley

Foundation Funds Are Distributed

Pickaway County schools and the county board of education received $46,192.67 for the January payment of the Foundation Program funds.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — John Markley, 43, accused of making more than 500 anonymous telephone calls to a 30-year-old Toledo housewife, was sentenced Wednesday in municipal court to six months in jail and fined $500.

Little Boy Killed

CADIZ, Ohio (AP) — A 2-year-old boy, alone on the second floor, died Wednesday when fire destroyed his parents' home in nearby Georgetown. The victim was William Leroy Rinkes.

Express, the Rock Island's Colorado Flyer, the Missouri Pacific's Hot Springs Special and the Frisco Lines' Meteor.

Still operating, though, are trains like the Super Chief on the Santa Fe, the Golden State on the Rock Island, the Southern Belle on the Kansas City Southern and the Portland Rose on the Union Pacific.

But does Kansas City need a massive stone structure eight stories tall and nearly as long as two football fields to handle the comparatively few passenger trains left?

Some civic leaders say no. They suggest the terminal be converted into a shopping center, a junior college or perhaps most suitably a railroad museum.

"We are definitely not ready to turn this station into a museum," icily asserts Robert McMillan, youthful and energetic president of the Kansas City Terminal Railway Co. which operates the station on behalf of the 12 owner railroads.

McMillan concedes that except for a few prestige cross-country trains, the day of long-distance rail passenger service is over. But he insists this does not mean railroads are going out of the people hauling business.

What McMillan envisions is using existing tracks radiating from the terminal to transport passengers on high-speed trains to and from the widespread Kansas City suburbs. The same system, he says, can carry airline passengers the 20 miles between downtown and the new Mid-Continent Airport to the northwest.

And while he's at it, McMillan also urges construction of a huge exhibition hall, hotel and other convention facilities either adjacent to or above the terminal. He notes the railway owns 78 acres of prime land right on Nicholas Drive Parent Teacher Assn. will present the movie, "Francis In The Navy" Saturday.

There will be two showings, at 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. Doors will open at 12:45 and 2:45. The movie is approximately 90 minutes long. Refreshments will be sold.

This film stars Donald O'Connor, Martha Hyer, and Francis the Talking Mule. Francis has been transferred to the Navy and is about to be sold as surplus when Donald O'Connor undertakes to rescue him. It seems Donald has an exact double in the Army and the situation that develops creates a delightful comedy.

the fringe of Kansas City's business district.

Uncle Sam also has a stake in the station. Through the building's cavernous subbasement rattles an intricate system of automated conveyor belts which load mail onto trains from the post-office across the street.

History buffs are sure to scream if anybody talks of tearing down the terminal.

Still visible on stones near the front entrances are scars from machine-gun bullets fired by Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd and his friends in 1933 when they killed four law officers and bank robber Frank Nash in an attempt to free Nash.

And old-timers still recall the day in 1928 when several dozen wild-eyed steers escaped from a freight train and ran amok through the terminal. A station employee became a national hero by bulldozing one of the galloping beasts in the ladies room.

St. Bonaventure Defeats Villanova As Lanier Stars

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Lanier, 6-foot-11 sophomore for the unbeaten Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure, has established himself as one of the best big men in college basketball this season.
Lew Alcendor, 7-1 1/2 star of UCLA's national champions, and Elvin Hayes, 6-8 Big E of Houston's top-ranked Cougars, couldn't have played better than Lanier did Wednesday night in leading the fifth-ranked Bonnies over Villanova 66-62.
The 265-pound Lanier scored two key baskets, blocked several shots, grabbed a vital rebound and started several fast breaks in the closing minutes as the Bonnies chalked up their 16th straight at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

"Lanier won the game for us on defense by blocking those shots at the end," said Larry Weise, St. Bonaventure coach.
"I never saw a man completely dominate the play the way Lanier did in the last three minutes," declared Jack Kraft, Villanova coach.
Lanier finished with 18 rebounds and 22 points, including the basket that put the Bonnies ahead for good at 60-59 as they snapped Villanova's nine-game winning streak.

In his last three games against Detroit, St. Francis, Pa. and Villanova Lanier has scored 73 points and grabbed 57 rebounds.
Lanier's latest performance overshadowed the 50-point spree by Calvin Murphy, the 5-10 soph, in leading Niagara over Syracuse 116-107. It was a single game record for Syracuse's Manley Field House, Dave Bing, former Orange star, held the old mark of 43.
Two free throws by Al Smith in the last 34 seconds gave Bradley a 74-72 victory over Cincinnati at Peoria. Jerry King scored 20 points and pulled down 15 rebounds in pacing Louisville to a 73-63 home court triumph over St. Louis. Wichita State, also playing at home, edged Drake 79-78 on Greg Carney's two free throws in the last four seconds.
Bob Quick threw in 38 points to lead Xavier of Ohio over DePaul 97-78 at Cincinnati and Boston College whipped Providence on the road 86-70.
In other games Penn State upset Temple 81-68, Massachusetts edged Connecticut 65-63, Toledo took Kent State 72-62, Davidson defeated Virginia Tech 81-76, Auburn downed Georgia 62-56 and Mississippi conquered Mississippi State 63-53.

Circleville Travels To Miami Trace For SCO Action

Entering the final stages of the 1967-68 basketball season, the Circleville High School basketball team travels to Miami Trace Friday.
The Panthers finished the first round tied for the lead in the South Central Ohio League, along with Wilmington, and Greenfield.
Last week they were bumped out of the top seat by the Wilmington Hurricanes. They now have a 5-2 record in the league and an 11-3 overall record.
In the first game between the Tigers and the Trace Panthers, the latter posted an 82-41 victory. Trace romped to a 22-5 first quarter lead, was on top 47-13 at halftime and 69-27 at the end of the third quarter.

TRACE had four eagers in double figures in that first game, led by Bob Thornberry's 20 points. Thornberry is the only returning starter from the defending championship team of 1966-67.

Trace has good size with 6-3 Phil Bihl and 6-6 Jack Waddie available. Thornberry, a guard, is 6-1. Eddie Summers, 5-10, plays at forward and is considered one of the top defensive players on the team. Chuck Weaver and Larry Ankrom also figure heavily in the Trace success this year.
Since that first game, Circleville has instituted a slow-down offense. Although the Tigers have not won with their deliberate style of play, they have managed to hold the score down in some of the recent games and have been within striking distance of opponents until late in the game.
The big game in the league this weekend, and one that will go a long way toward deciding the league champion, is at Greenfield.
League leaders Greenfield and Wilmington clash in that tilt. Greenfield won the game played on the Hurricane hardwood earlier in the season.
Wilmington will have only Washington and Hillsboro remaining on the schedule, both second division teams. A win for the Hurricanes would give them a solid shot at an undisputed cage crown.

IF Greenfield wins, however, they still must play at Miami Trace, setting up a situation that could find the league title shared by the three teams that were deadlocked for the lead at the halfway point of the season.
Other action Friday finds Washington C. H. at Hillsboro. Circleville is idle Saturday. Washington hosts Pleasant View, and Greenfield plays at Chillicothe and Wilmington travels to Hamilton Taft.

Bradley Nips Cincy, 74-72, In Peoria Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati's hopes for a title in the Missouri Valley Conference were given a jolt Wednesday night, while Toledo bolstered its chances in the Mid-American Conference basketball race.
The Bradley Braves nipped Cincinnati at Peoria, Ill., 74-72, leaving the Bearcats with a 5-3 conference mark. Toledo grabbed a share of the MAC lead with a 72-62 triumph over Kent State on the losers floor.
Toledo's 5-1 mark put the Rockets in a first place tie with Bowling Green and Western Michigan.
In the Ohio Conference, Otterbein remains the only unbeaten team after rallying to defeat Marietta 93-85.
Cincinnati and Bradley were locked in a furious battle until two free throws by Larry Smith in the final 34 seconds settled it for the Braves.
Cincinnati's John Howard topped all scorers with 31 points. Teammate Rick Roberson got 14. Joe Allen made 26 points and Al Smith 19 for Bradley.
Steve Mix led Toledo, now 12-3 on the season, with 21 points. Kent's Doug Grayson had a game-high 27 points.
Otterbein clicked off 11 straight points in the second half to put Marietta out of reach. The Otters were led by Lorenzo Hunt with 24 points.
Defiance evened things with Findlay, beating the Oilers 90-80 and leaving both teams tied for first place in the Mid-Ohio Conference with 5-1 marks. Defiance's only loss in 17 games was to Findlay early in the season.
Dan Terhune sparked Defiance with 34 points. High for Findlay was Jim Crops with 18.
Xavier ran its victory string to three games, with an easy 97-78 decision over DePaul as Bob Quick scored a career high 38 points for the Musketeers.
Phil Blankenship poured in 40 points as Wilmington won its first game of the season, beating Urbana 103-96.
Defense-minded Ashland upped its record to 15-1 with a 56-40 victory over Mount Union. Tom Russell scored 22 points for Ashland, the nation's small college defensive leader. Ohio Northern never trailed in dumping Central Michigan 73-58, with Tom Ross scoring 29 points.

CHICAGO BEATS RANGERS, 3-2
By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago's Dennis Hull is too busy keeping up with high-scoring National Hockey League rivals to worry about keeping up with high-scoring Big Brother.
Wednesday night at New York, however, the strapping younger brother of sharp-shooting Bobby Hull shifted into offensive gear and ripped in a pair of bullet goals to carry the Black Hawks past the Rangers 3-2.
The victory lifted Chicago into second place in the East Division scramble, two points ahead of Boston and Toronto and one behind Montreal's division leaders.
Minnesota climbed within two points of first place Philadelphia in the West Division race by whipping Los Angeles 6-1 and St. Louis crushed Pittsburgh 9-4 in other action.

The New Jersey Americans showed there is nothing like a scoring streak to end a losing streak.
New Jersey had lost four in a row entering Wednesday night's American Basketball Association game against Dallas in Teaneck, N.J., and No. 5 was on the horizon when the Americans began putting points together.
Trailing 110-103 after falling behind by 18 earlier, the Amers rattled off 11 straight points while holding the Chaparrals scoreless for five minutes and Dallas never caught up.
Elsewhere, Pittsburgh fell to Indiana 119-113 in Shelbyville, Ind., and Anaheim upset Denver 112-105 in Anaheim.

Browns Pick Tom Schoen In 8th Round

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tom Schoen, who won most valuable player honors as a defensive back at Notre Dame last season, was selected by the Cleveland Browns Wednesday in the eighth round of the pro football draft.
Schoen, a graduate of Cleveland St. Joseph High School, said, "I'm really glad that Cleveland drafted me. I've been following the Browns since I've been old enough to read the Cleveland newspapers."
Schoen, a safetyman, intercepted 11 passes and scored five touchdowns over the last two seasons.
Schoen comes by the football talents naturally. His father, Norm Schoen, led the nation in football scoring in 1936 with 117 points for Baldwin-Wallace.
Other Browns choices Wednesday:
Harry Olszewski, Clemson guard; Reece Morrison, halfback from Southwest Texas; Mike Wempe, offensive tackle from Missouri; Jackie Jackson, Clemson flanker; Nate James, defensive back from Florida A&M; Dale Brady, Memphis State halfback; David Porter, defensive tackle from Michigan; Jim Greer, defensive end from Stephen Austin.
Alvin Mitchell, Morgan State flanker; Jim Alcorn, Clarion State quarterback; Tom Butler, Toledo linebacker; Terry Sellers, defensive back from Georgia; Ed Whips, Jackson State fullback; Bob Baxter, Memphis State flanker; Richard Sievert, defensive end from Wisconsin State; Wayne McDuffie, Florida State center.

Pro Grid Draft Marathon Brings Chuckles

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There is a certain giddiness that overtakes pro football people after more than 22 hours spread over two days of drafting the nation's top collegiate players.

The chuckles came in bunches as representatives of the National and American Leagues completed their 17 rounds of drafting Wednesday night.

There was Minnesota scoring a thigh-slapper by picking Larry Kuhrich, a defensive back from Boston College, in the 16th round. If that name is familiar, it's because Larry's father, Joe, is the general manager-coach of the rival Philadelphia Eagles.

Cincinnati, utilizing one of its 42 choices, picked Miami's Joe Mira, described as the little brother of George, the San Francisco quarterback. But, of course, it's Joe, a flanker, stands 6-foot and weighs 185 pounds, somewhat bigger than brother George.
The New York Giants gave club football a huge boost when they selected Ken Parker of Fordham University as a defensive back on the 16th go-round.

Fordham, of course, dropped varsity football some 13 years ago but went back to the sport on a club level a few years back. Parker is the first player to be drafted since the school resumed football.
There is, however, a catch. Parker is a basketball player and not listed on the Fordham football squad.
Dallas delved into the basketball market too, picking West Virginia's Ron Williams in the 14th round and listing him as a defensive back.
The Cowboys also won the distance championship for a pick, selecting tackle Larry Cole of Hawaii in the 16th round. "I'd love the assignment to go down and recruit him," cracked a Dallas official.

There was a predictable late-round squabble when Philadelphia announced the selection of defensive back Jim Scott from Arizona in the 17th round and Cincinnati howled that he was the same player the Bengals had picked in the 11th round as Wally Scott.

A quick check revealed that Jim and Wally were one and the same so the Eagles substituted Joe Forzani, a Utah State line-backer, for the final choice.

Earlier, Buffalo had created a fuss when it announced the selection of Memphis State tackle Chuck De Vlegher in the 13th round, then hurriedly withdrew the pick and substituted Dan Darrah, a William and Mary quarterback.

The Bills had learned, almost as soon as they originally announced De Vlegher's choice, that he had a bad knee and was a medical question mark.
When they came right back with him in the next round, one wag remarked, "He must have had an operation between phone calls."

Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban of UCLA had been plucked in the second round by Los Angeles after linemen headed by Southern California's Ron Yary and Tennessee's Bob Johnson had dominated the early selections. Minnesota made Yary the No. 1 choice and Cincinnati chose Johnson right after the Vikings opened the draft Monday.

Miami grabbed Kim Hammond, Florida State's quarterback, and sprinter Jimmy Hines, listed as a flanker from Texas Southern Wednesday. Cincinnati took Dewey Warren, Tennessee's quarterback, Cleveland grabbed Notre Dame defensive back Tom Schoen and Detroit picked up Oklahoma line-backer Granville Liggins.

Wednesday's 12 rounds lasted exactly 11 hours, making the two-day total 22 hours, 43 minutes compared to 21:39 last year. A total of 462 players were selected by the 26 pro teams.

Monroe Leads Bullets to Win

Earl Monroe is in a rut, and nothing so wonderfully monotonous has happened to the Baltimore Bullets in a long time.
The Bulls topped the 30-point mark for the seventh straight game Wednesday night in leading Baltimore to a 113-108 National Basketball Association victory over Detroit.

During Monroe's hot streak, the Bullets have looked like anything but the Eastern Division cellar dwellers, winning six times.
In other NBA action, New York edged Cincinnati 128-126, Boston topped Chicago 118-109 and Los Angeles took St. Louis 110-102.

Bud Horn Leads PBA Cougar Open

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bud Horn scored six straight strikes in his final game of 247 Wednesday night to wrest the lead from Fred Lening in the $75,000 Professional Bowlers Association Cougar Open.
The 29-year-old Horn wrapped up a 1,376 block and rain his 24-game total to 2,700, 26 pints better than Lening, a 47-year-old former bowling lanes manager from Fairless Hills, Pa.

Horn, who had a 1,330 for 11th place in the afternoon round, uncorked games of 200, 186, 269, 258, 210 and the clutch 247 to pull in front.

Football coach Lloyd Eaton of Wyoming has a six-year mark of 43-16-2 at the Laramie Wyo. school. His last two teams were unbeaten in Western Athletic Conference games.

St. Bonaventure Defeats Villanova As Lanier Stars

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Lanier, 6-foot-11 sophomore from the unbeaten Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure, has established himself as one of the best big men in college basketball this season.
Lew Alcindor, 7-1 1/2 star of UCLA's national champions, and Elvin Hayes, 6-8 Big E of Houston's top-ranked Cougars, couldn't have played better than Lanier did Wednesday night in leading the fifth-ranked Bonnies over Villanova 66-62.
The 265-pound Lanier scored two key baskets, blocked several shots, grabbed a vital rebound and started several fast breaks in the closing minutes as the Bonnies chalked up their 16th straight at the Palestra in Philadelphia.
"Lanier won the game for us on defense by blocking those shots at the end," said Larry Weise, St. Bonaventure coach.
"I never saw a man completely dominate the play the way Lanier did in the last three minutes," declared Jack Kraft, Villanova coach.
Lanier finished with 18 rebounds and 22 points, including the basket that put the Bonnies ahead for good at 60-59 as they snapped Villanova's nine-game winning streak.

In his last three games against Detroit, St. Francis, Pa. and Villanova Lanier has scored 73 points and grabbed 57 rebounds.
Lanier's latest performance overshadowed the 50-point spree by Calvin Murphy, the 5-10 soph, in leading Niagara over Syracuse 116-107. It was a single game record for Syracuse's Manley Field House, Dave Bing, former Orange star, held the old mark of 43.
Two free throws by Al Smith in the last 34 seconds gave Bradley a 74-72 victory over Cincinnati at Peoria. Jerry King scored 20 points and pulled down 15 rebounds in pacing Louisville to a 73-63 home court triumph over St. Louis. Wiehita State, also playing at home, edged Drake 79-78 on Greg Carney's two free throws in the last four seconds.
Bob Quick threw in 38 points to lead Xavier of Ohio over DePaul 97-78 at Cincinnati and Boston College whipped Providence on the road 86-70.
In other games Penn State upset Temple 81-68, Massachusetts edged Connecticut 65-63, Toledo took Kent State 72-62, Davidson defeated Virginia Tech 81-76, Auburn downed Georgia 62-56 and Mississippi conquered Mississippi State 63-53.

Circleville Travels To Miami Trace For SCO Action

Entering the final stages of the 1967-68 basketball season, the Circleville High School basketball team travels to Miami Trace Friday.
The Panthers finished the first round tied for the lead in the South Central Ohio League, along with Wilmington, and Greenfield.
Last week they were bumped out of the top seat by the Wilmington Hurricanes. They now have a 5-2 record in the league and an 11-3 overall record.
In the first game between the Tigers and the Trace Panthers, the latter posted an 82-41 victory. Trace romped to a 22-5 first quarter lead, was on top 47-13 at halftime and 69-27 at the end of the third quarter.
TRACE had four eagers in double figures in that first game, led by Bob Thornberry's 20 points. Thornberry is the only returning starter from the

Bradley Nips Cincy, 74-72, In Peoria Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati's hopes for a title in the Missouri Valley Conference were given a jolt Wednesday night, while Toledo bolstered its chances in the Mid-American Conference basketball race.
The Bradley Braves nipped Cincinnati at Peoria, Ill., 74-72, leaving the Bearcats with a 5-3 conference mark. Toledo grabbed a share of the MAC lead with a 72-62 triumph over Kent State on the losers floor.
Toledo's 5-1 mark put the Rockets in a first place tie with Bowling Green and Western Michigan.
In the Ohio Conference, Otterbein remains the only unbeaten team after rallying to defeat Marietta 93-85.
Cincinnati and Bradley were locked in a furious battle until two free throws by Larry Smith in the final 34 seconds settled it for the Braves.
Cincinnati's John Howard topped all scorers with 31 points. Teammate Rick Robertson got 14. Joe Allen made 26 points and Al Smith 19 for Bradley.
Steve Mix led Toledo, now 12-3 on the season, with 21 points. Kent's Doug Grayson had a game-high 27 points.
Otterbein clicked off 11 straight points in the second half to put Marietta out of reach. The Otters were led by Lorenzo Hunt with 24 points.
Defiance evened things with Findlay, beating the Oilers 90-80 and leaving both teams tied for first place in the Mid-Ohio Conference with 5-1 marks. Defiance's only loss in 17 games was to Findlay early in the season.
Dan Terhune sparked Defiance with 34 points. High for Findlay was Jim Crops with 18.
Xavier ran its victory string to three games, with an easy 97-78 decision over DePaul as Bob Quick scored a career high 38 points for the Musketeers.
Phil Blankenship poured in 40 points as Wilmington won its first game of the season, beating Urbana 103-96.
Defense-minded Ashland upped its record to 15-1 with a 56-40 victory over Mount Union. Tom Russell scored 22 points for Ashland, the nation's small college defensive leader.
Ohio Northern never trailed in dumping Central Michigan 73-58, with Tom Ross scoring 29 points.

defending championship team of 1966-67.
Trace has good size with 6-3 Phil Bihl and 6-6 Jack Waddle available. Thornberry, a guard, is 6-1. Eddie Summers, 5-10, plays at forward and is considered one of the top defensive players on the team. Chuck Weaver and Larry Ankrom also figure heavily in the Trace success this year.
Since that first game, Circleville has instituted a slow-down offense. Although the Tigers have not won with their deliberate style of play, they have managed to hold the score down in some of the recent games and have been within striking distance of opponents until late in the game.
The big game in the league this weekend, and one that will go a long way toward deciding the league champion, is at Greenfield.
League leaders Greenfield and Wilmington clash in that tilt. Greenfield won the game played on the Hurricane hardwood earlier in the season.
Wilmington will have only Washington and Hillsboro remaining on the schedule, both second division teams. A win for the Hurricanes would give them a solid shot at an undisputed cage crown.
IF Greenfield wins, however, they still must play at Miami Trace, setting up a situation that could find the league title shared by the three teams that were deadlocked for the lead at the halfway point of the season.
Other action Friday finds Washington C. H. at Hillsboro. Circleville is idle Saturday. Washington hosts Pleasant View, and Greenfield plays at Chillicothe and Wilmington travels to Hamilton Taft.

Chicago Beats Rangers, 3-2
By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago's Dennis Hull is too busy keeping up with high-scoring National Hockey League rivals to worry about keeping up with high-scoring Big Brother.
Wednesday night at New York, however, the strapping younger brother of sharp-shooting Bobby Hull shifted into offensive gear and ripped in a pair of bullet goals to carry the Black Hawks past the Rangers 3-2.
The victory lifted Chicago into second place in the East Division scramble, two points ahead of Boston and Toronto and one behind Montreal's division leaders.
Minnesota climbed within two points of first place Philadelphia in the West Division race by whipping Los Angeles 6-1 and St. Louis crushed Pittsburgh 9-4 in other action.

Browns Pick Tom Schoen In 8th Round

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tom Schoen, who won most valuable player honors as a defensive back at Notre Dame last season, was selected by the Cleveland Browns Wednesday in the eighth round of the pro football draft.
Schoen, a graduate of Cleveland St. Joseph High School, said, "I'm really glad that Cleveland drafted me. I've been following the Browns since I've been old enough to read the Cleveland news papers."
Schoen, a safetyman, intercepted 11 passes and scored five touchdowns over the last two seasons.
Schoen comes by the football talents naturally. His father, Norm Schoen, led the nation in football scoring in 1936 with 117 points for Baldwin-Wallace.
Other Browns choices Wednesday:
Harry Olszewski, Clemson guard; Reece Morrison, half-back from Southwest Texas; Mike Wempe, offensive tackle from Missouri; Jackie Jackson, Clemson flanker; Nate James, defensive back from Florida A&M; Dale Brady, Memphis State halfback; David Porter, defensive tackle from Michigan; Jim Greer, defensive end from Stephen Austin.
Alvin Mitchell, Morgan State flanker; Jim Alcorna, Clarion State quarterback; Tom Butler, Toledo linebacker; Terry Sellers, defensive back from Georgia; Ed Whips, Jackson State fullback; Bob Baxter, Memphis State flanker; Richard Sievert, defensive end from Wisconsin State; Wayne McDuffie, Florida State center.

Americans Top Dallas, 119-113

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New Jersey Americans showed there is nothing like a scoring streak to end a losing streak.
New Jersey had lost four in a row entering Wednesday night's American Basketball Association game against Dallas in Teaneck, N.J., and No. 5 was on the horizon when the Americans began putting points together.
Trailing 110-103 after falling behind by 11 earlier, the Amerks rattled off 11 straight points while holding the Chaparrals scoreless for five minutes and Dallas never caught up.
Elsewhere, Pittsburgh fell to Indiana 119-113 in Shelbyville, Ind., and Anaheim upset Denver 112-105 in Anaheim.

Pro Grid Draft Marathon Brings Chuckles

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There is a certain giddiness that overtakes pro football people after more than 22 hours spread over two days of drafting the nation's top collegiate players.
The chuckles came in bunches as representatives of the National and American Leagues completed their 17 rounds of drafting Wednesday night.
There was Minnesota scoring a high-slapper by picking Larry Kucharich, a defensive back from Boston College, in the 16th round. If that name is familiar, it's because Larry's father, Joe, is the general manager-coach of the rival Philadelphia Eagles.
Cincinnati, utilizing one of its 42 choices, picked Miami's Joe Mira, described as the little brother of George, the San Francisco quarterback. But, of course, if Joe, a flanker, stands 6-foot and weighs 185 pounds, somewhat bigger than brother George.
The New York Giants gave club football a huge boost when they selected Ken Parker of Fordham University as a defensive back on the 16th go-round.
Fordham, of course, dropped varsity football some 13 years ago but went back to the sport on a club level a few years back. Parker is the first player to be drafted since the school resumed football.
There is, however, a catch. Parker is a basketball player and not listed on the Fordham football squad.
Dallas delved into the basketball market too, picking West Virginia's Ron Williams in the 14th round and listing him as a defensive back.
The Cowboys also won the distance championship for a pick, selecting tackle Larry Cole of Hawaii in the 16th round. "I'd love the assignment to go down and recruit him," cracked a Dallas official.
There was a predictable late-round squabble when Philadelphia announced the selection of defensive back Jim Scott from Arizona in the 17th round and Cincinnati howled that he was the same player the Bengals had picked in the 11th round as along with Warren, and split end Elmo Maples of Southern University.

They also grabbed Williams, a kick return specialist from Arkansas A&M, and linebacker John Neider of Louisville.
Other selections Wednesday included:
James Johnson, South Carolina State defensive back; Steve Smith, Miami, Fla., tight end; Wes Bean, Grambling line-backer; Harry Gunner, Oregon State line-backer; Ed Brantley, N. Texas State offensive tackle; Phil Johnson, Long Beach State defensive back; Steve Hanrahan, Weber State defensive tackle; Wayne Patrick, Louisville running back; James Russell, N. Texas State offensive end.
Wally Scott, Arizona defensive back; Jeff Banks, Pacific line-backer; Bob Trympy, Utah tight end; Joe Mira, Miami, Fla., flanker, and Don Maning, UCLA line-backer.

Bud Horn Leads PBA Cougar Open

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bud Horn scored six straight strikes in his final game of 247 Wednesday night to wrest the lead from Fred Lening in the $75,000 Professional Bowlers Association Cougar Open.
The 29-year-old Horn wrapped up a 1,376 block and rain his 24-game total to 2,700, 26 pints better than Lening, a 47-year-old former bowling lanes manager from Fairless Hills, Pa.
Horn, who had a 1,330 for 11th place in the afternoon round, uncorked games of 200, 186, 269, 258, 210 and the clutch 247 to pull in front.

Football coach Lloyd Eaton of Wyoming has a six-year mark of 43-16-2 at the Laramie Wyo. school. His last two teams were unbeaten in Western Athletic Conference games.

Bud Horn Leads PBA Cougar Open

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bud Horn scored six straight strikes in his final game of 247 Wednesday night to wrest the lead from Fred Lening in the $75,000 Professional Bowlers Association Cougar Open.
The 29-year-old Horn wrapped up a 1,376 block and rain his 24-game total to 2,700, 26 pints better than Lening, a 47-year-old former bowling lanes manager from Fairless Hills, Pa.
Horn, who had a 1,330 for 11th place in the afternoon round, uncorked games of 200, 186, 269, 258, 210 and the clutch 247 to pull in front.

Football coach Lloyd Eaton of Wyoming has a six-year mark of 43-16-2 at the Laramie Wyo. school. His last two teams were unbeaten in Western Athletic Conference games.

ly selections. Minnesota made Yary the No. 1 choice and Cincinnati chose Johnson right after the Vikings opened the draft Monday.
Miami grabbed Kim Hammond, Florida State's quarterback, and sprinter Jimmy Hines, listed as a flanker from Texas Southern Wednesday. Cincinnati took Dewey Warren, Tennessee's quarterback, Cleveland grabbed Notre Dame defensive back Tom Schoen and Detroit picked up Oklahoma line-backer Granville Liggins.
Wednesday's 12 rounds lasted exactly 11 hours, making the two-day total 22 hours, 43 minutes compared to 21:39 last year. A total of 462 players were selected by the 26 pro teams.

Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban of UCLA had been plucked in the second round by Los Angeles after linemen headed by Southern California's Ron Yary and Tennessee's Bob Johnson had dominated the ear-

When they came right back with him in the next round, one was remarked, "He must have had an operation between phone calls."

Braves, Vikings Play at TVHS

The Logan Elm - Teays Valley basketball game, although listed as a "home" game on the schedule cards will be played at Teays Valley Saturday, officials of both schools emphasize.
Logan Elm officials have also announced that a game with Madison South, postponed by a snowstorm, will be played Feb. 13 at Madison South.

Plan Big Pipeline To Cross Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) Preliminary data was presented Wednesday by three companies proposing to build nearly $90 million in new gas pipeline facilities in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

At a pre-hearing conference before Arthur Fribourg, an examiner for the Federal Power Commission, Norman A. Flanningham, attorney for Consolidated Gas Supply Corp., Clarksburg, W. Va., said Consolidated proposed $37.5 in new construction.

This would include 243 miles of pipeline from Lebanon, Ohio, to Beaver, Pa.

Consolidated's new gas supply would come from Texas Gas Transmission Corp., Owensboro, Ky., which proposed to invest $35.5 million, and from United Gas Pipe Line Co., Shreveport, La., which would invest $16.6 million, for new facilities to deliver gas to Consolidated at Lebanon.

Flanningham detailed how new gas supplies were needed to serve the space heating requirements of 182,000 customers over the next three years. Many of these customers would be served by Consolidated's subsidiary, East Ohio Gas Co., Cleveland.

Appalachian Power Co., Roanoke, Va., and Ohio Power Co., Canton, Ohio, subsidiaries of American Electric Power Co., New York, are opposing the construction of the new gas facilities.

Tucson News Combine Must Split Apart

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A federal judge ruled Wednesday an operating agreement between two Tucson newspapers was in violation of the Sherman and Clayton antitrust acts.

U.S. Dist. Judge James Walsh ruled that a 1940 contract between the morning Arizona Daily Star and the afternoon Tucson Daily Citizen to combine their commercial operations violated antitrust laws.

Judge Walsh also ordered Tucson Daily Citizen owner William Small Jr. to divest himself of ownership of the Arizona Daily Star and also to modify the 1940 operating agreement.

The two newspapers formed Tucson Newspapers Inc. in 1940 to act as an agent in the management and operation of advertising, printing and circulation departments of the two papers.

Judge Walsh said the 1940 agreement constituted price fixing, profit pooling, and market allocation agreements. He said the formation of Tucson Newspapers, Inc., gave the papers monopoly power over the daily newspaper business in Tucson.

Officials at the newspapers declined to comment, saying only that their attorneys were studying the decision.

Similar contracts exist between newspapers in 21 other U.S. communities. The Tucson case has been considered a test case.

Walsh said in order to restore competition to the daily newspaper business in Tucson would require that the advertising and circulation departments be separate for each newspaper.

He gave the defendants 90 days in order to prepare a plan for divestiture of ownership and control of the Star.

Continue Search For Lost Subs

TOULON, France (AP) — The search continued today for the missing French submarine Minerve and hundreds of miles away for Israel's submarine Dakar, but hope was abandoned for the 121 men aboard the two vessels.

A fleet of rescue ships still hunted in the Mediterranean off Toulon for the Minerve and her crew of 52. The submarine failed to report on schedule Saturday.

Israeli navy officers in Tel Aviv said the search for the Dakar, missing near Cyprus since Thursday, would continue "until we are certain there is no chance of finding her."

Stokes To Seek Income Tax Hike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes says he will present to Council as soon as possible legislation increasing the city's income tax in accordance with recommendations of the Little Hoover Commission.

The commission recommended Wednesday that the current one-half of one per cent tax be boosted to eight-tenths of one per cent by April 1.

The commission urged also that the tax be upped to a full one per cent by July 1, 1969.

Makes Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, asked Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio Wednesday to make Camp Perry, Ohio, available as a summer camp for thousands of needy young people throughout the state. Camp Perry is where the National Rifle Association holds its marksmanship matches.

Business Briefs

Dale Ankrom, Route 1, has recently purchased the Hamilton Store, 110 W. Main St., from John and Marcellyn Evans.

The gift and card shop has been a Circleville business for more than 50 years.

Under the new ownership, the store will continue to carry the same merchandise as in the past, with the same sales people there to serve the customers.

Sales of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company for 1967 were $942,905,000, up slightly from the preceding year's record high of $941,663,000, it was announced by Robinson F. Barker, chairman.

Earnings per share improved during the last half of 1967, with the third and fourth quarter results being, respectively, five per cent and 16 per cent ahead of the comparable periods in 1966.

Unfortunately, this was not enough to offset lower earnings in the first half of the year, when there was some weakness in many of the company's major markets.

Earnings for 1967 were $43,495,000, equivalent to $4.28 per share as compared with $49,487,000 and $4.87 per share in 1966.

U.S. Civilians Arm Selves in Saigon Battle

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The tall young American civilian crouched behind the high concrete wall, a pistol strapped to his thigh and a high-powered rifle in his hands. His clothes were dirty and he hadn't shaved for two days.

Ron Fleming, 26, a Harvard graduate, was defending his Saigon home. Like scores of other Americans in the embattled Vietnamese capital, he had discovered that law and order had broken down in many places and it was every man for himself.

The young psychological warfare operative crept along the wall, then motioned those behind him to stop. At the corner, he put a finger to his lips for silence, then raised the M14 rifle to his shoulder.

The crack echoed around the small cluster of neat concrete homes in the compound. Fleming said.

Meeting Delayed

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' meeting with the 21-county Southeastern Ohio Regional Council to discuss problems created by the collapse of the Silver Bridge over the Ohio River here was called off Wednesday because of inclement weather and rescheduled for next week.

ing said: "He's not there now. Maybe I got him. That might be the end of the friendly neighborhood sniper."

A few minutes later two bullets cracked in the air. The sniper was still there. Fleming began stalking him again, as he had been doing for 36 hours.

All over Saigon, particularly in the heavily populated outer suburbs, Americans like Fleming have taken up arms to defend their homes.

"We have no choice," said missionary Richard Taylor of the Christian Missionary Alliance.

Seek Vermilion Bridge Check

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vermilion Mayor John W. Maiden says he will ask the state to inspect the U.S. 6-Ohio 2 bridge over the Vermilion River in the wake of flooding which sent water over the bridge earlier this week.

Maiden said Wednesday he will seek the inspection as a precaution and also will ask that a second bridge spanning the river be built soon.

The mayor noted that residents west of the river would have trouble reaching the nearest hospital in Lorain if Vermilion's only bridge were closed for some reason.

ance, who comes from Auburn, Maine. "We have bullet holes in our shutters. Men like Fleming afford some degree of protection. Without them we would have no one."

Fleming lives in a compound of five houses in the Chi Lang area, a little American community of nine men, three women and four children. Some of the heaviest fighting in the battle of Saigon has occurred within two blocks.

Most of the time the main highway alongside the compound has been deserted. Helicopters have strafed in the rear.

"We sorta look on ourselves as a frontier community," said Fleming, "and it has brought out the frontier spirit in us all. Two embassy people who hadn't spoken to each other in months because of the conflicting nature of their work are good buddies now. This siege has brought them together."

"But I found out one thing. The compound killer, a veteran of the U.S. Army who toted a gleaming Swedish K machine gun and kept bragging about how many VC he would kill if he got the chance, bugged out the moment the going got rough."

"Me and another 26-year-old took over the leadership of the compound. We are working together fine."

Fleming borrowed three M14 rifles from a nearby U.S. military unit and issued one to Don Wilson, a slightly built diplomat from Detroit's Southfield section. Wednesday night Wilson spent one three-hour watch on the driveway leading into the compound, another on the back fence of the missionary house, and a third at the rear of the compound.

The Americans have seen no Vietnamese police or troops since fighting erupted around their compound early Wednesday morning. At daylight Wednesday they decided to defend themselves.

The vigilantes keep a careful watch. They have no telephones, and communication with the world outside their compound is limited to occasional visits by friends and trips to the nearby U.S. military compound to get fed.

Some of the group prepared to leave today, particularly the married ones with the children. Fearing more heavy fighting around them, they thought they would move into hotels.

But Fleming and Wilson said they would stay.

"Where else would I go? This is home," said Wilson.
